

COUNTY PREPARES FOR GILBERT

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
Hancock County and Bay-Waveland School Districts will decide early this morning whether classes will be held today due to the threat of Hurricane Gilbert.

Robert Boudin, Bay-Waveland, Hancock County Civil Defense director said, "I meet today (Wednesday) with Bay-Waveland school board members and administrators to talk about the use of their facilities as storm shelters."

"Schools are owned by the taxpayers and Civil Defense is given authority to use them during emergencies, and we have to ask the public to help us keep these facilities clean," Boudin stated.

"We have had to come up with some rules and regulations and a copy will be issued to persons having to use these facilities," Boudin said.

Boudin indicated there was a problem as some facilities were not left clean after use last weekend due to the threat of Hurricane Florence.

When schools are used as shelters, they may have to be used for class the next day, Boudin said.

On Wednesday, Rhea Scafidi, Hancock County School Food supervisor, was touching base with some of the facilities which may be used for mass feedings in case of a disaster.

All Catholic schools along the Mississippi Gulf Coast will be closed Thursday and Friday on orders issued by Bishop Joseph Howze on Wednesday.

Roy Baxter, of Pearllington said, "I saw a lot of boats traveling north on Pearl River today due to Gilbert's threat."

Boudin said the locks at the John C. Stennis Space Center were opened Wednesday for commercial and recreational boats.

Jeannie Garcia, Hancock County Red Cross director, reported she was very busy on Wednesday calling shelter volunteers in case it would be necessary to open shelters.

Boudin reported he had been in touch with supervisors on Wednesday and would be meeting with them and officials from Bay St. Louis and Waveland today and decide if it is necessary to open shelters due to Gilbert's threat to the area.

"All residents are urged to stay tuned to their radio, television, and news reports for information on school information will be issued on WLOX radio and television at 6:15 a.m. and also on WXCR radio," Boudin added.

"Some residents of the area began to leave early in the day," Boudin said.

The Civil Defense director indicated everyone was waiting for the giant storm to enter the Gulf of Mexico.

Field, Prendergast sentenced in arson

BY DENA BISNETTE
Circuit Judge James Thomas has sentenced a former Waveland firefighter and policeman on arson charges.

William Field III and Michael Prendergast were each sentenced Monday to a $1,500 fine, court costs, three years' probation and 100 hours of community service.

The penalties were the result of Thomas' consideration of guilty pleas that both men had filed in June in connection with the arson of Field's vehicle, a Ford Aerostar van.

The van was burned May 25 in a wooded area near Pearlinton. A passing motorist reported seeing a fire or explosion and provided law enforcement authorities with a description and tag number of a vehicle he saw leaving the area at a high rate of speed. The vehicle was later linked to Field.

At a hearing where the two waived indictment, Field said he had not filed an insurance claim on the van and had burned the vehicle "to get out from under the payments."

Prendergast assisted Field in the arson and allegedly carried the diesel fuel used to ignite the van in his patrol car.

Thomas also gave the case non-adjudicated status.

County Prosecutor John Genin said the non-adjudicated status meant that the judge accepted the guilty pleas the two men entered, but did not adjudicate them to be guilty.

If an individual on probation in a non-adjudicated case complies with the terms of that probation, he can avoid a felony record because the charge of

Court may decide on Bourg candidacy

BY DENA BISNETTE
It may be up to a Hancock County Circuit Court judge to decide whether Hilda Bourg, who was turned down as a candidate by the Hancock County Election Commission, will be allowed to run for Beat Three supervisor.

On Monday, the election commission certified all of the other people who had turned in qualifying petitions for the local races to be included on the November ballot, but turned Bourg down on the advice of an attorney.

Bourg's only comment on the matter so far has been that she is seeking legal counsel.

According to Gerald Gex, the attorney who advises the election commission, Bourg has the option of appealing the turn-down to a Circuit Court.

Gex added that Circuit Clerk Pam Metzler had stated to him that the matter could probably be handled during the current term, given its priority status, in order to have it resolved before the election.

Gex advised the commission not to certify Bourg because she was, until recently, a member of the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee. She resigned about two weeks ago to enhance her chances of qualifying.

However, the members of party executive committees are considered as being covered under the same statutes dealing with members of county election commissions running for other offices, Gex said.

He explained that his advice was based on two court cases, Meeks vs. Tallahatchie County and Breland vs. Mallett, dated 1987 and 1988 respectively.

Breland vs. Mallett is the more similar to Bourg's case. In that case, the Mississippi Supreme Court decided the appeal of a case in which a former member of the Stone County Democratic Executive Committee, John Herman Breland, ran for supervisor.

P & H approves budget minus county funding

BY D.C. HARVILL
The Port and Harbor Commission at its regular meeting Monday approved its general operating budget for fiscal year 1988-89 minus $127,200 of revenue which it had been budgeted by the county board of supervisors.

The commission relinquished the $127,200 last month to help the county fulfill its obligation to Pearl River Junior College, according to Port and Harbor Executive Director Harold "Buz" Olsen.

The remaining $270,874 of the commission's $398,074 budget is generated through activities at the commission operated Port Bienville Industrial Park and Stennis Industrial Airpark.

The commission hopes to raise the relinquished amount through other sources.

According to Olsen, sources of revenue include funds from a coal off-loading terminal and a railroad at Port Bienville, the Fixed Base Operator at Stennis and leases, utility services and tariffs at both the port and airpark.

The commission also approved a projected three year capital improvement proposal totaling $2,118,285, including $175,000 for construction of a new commission headquarters building to be constructed during this fiscal year.

Finance committee member Dave McDonald said the capital improvements program is tentative, pending the availability of funds.

Included in the commission's assets is $1 million in certifi-

United Way kicks-off Hancock County campaign

BY D.C. HARVILL
The Hancock County United Way kicked-off its 1988 campaign with a breakfast Wednesday morning attended by more than 60 business and community leaders.

David Treutel Jr. is serving as the 1988 campaign chairman, with Randy Costello as co-chairman and industry chairman; Pat Harvill, kick-off breakfast chairman; Sherrell Johnson, small business chairman; Clarice Gustin, publicity chairman; Stephen Planchard, Diamondhead chairman; Ken Walker, governmental chairman; Jo Ann Lagasse, mail campaign chairman and Lonnie Clayborn, 1987 campaign chairman.

The local United Way's 1988 goal is $70,000, 25 percent of which had been pledged by the time of the kick-off.

The local goal of $65,000 was reached in the 1987 campaign.

Long-time Bay St. Louis resident James Collins, president of Goodwill Industries of South-eastern Louisiana, was the guest speaker.

Collins' compelling message to the gathering at Scafield's Wheel Inn Restaurant was, before asking others give they should give themselves, stating that people learn best by example.

"If we who have can't help those who have not, what hope is there?" he admonished.

He went on to say giving shouldn't be put off until it is thought one has enough money, because one may never think he has enough.

Among those agencies making pledges at the kick-off through employee involvement include Mississippi Power, Coast Electric, Sears, Martin Marietta, the Hancock County Supervisors, Stennis Space Center.

FLORENCE REFUGEES—Swept from islands and marshlands south of the Coast when storm tides flowed over them, Clapper rails (Rallus longirostris) were among wildlife washed ashore on mats of marsh grass along Hancock County beaches Sunday after Hurricane Florence's Saturday visit. Though there is no comparison in numbers, Sunday's arrivals are reminiscent of Hurricane Juan in October 1985 when thousands of rails, raccoons, nutrias and muskrats came ashore on mats of grass that piled six feet high at some places on Beach Boulevard. Services were conducted at First Southern Baptist Church in Pearllington with burial in Forest Lawn Cemetery in Slidell.

Honaker Funeral Home Inc. in Slidell was in charge of arrangements.

Odom seeks Beat Four supervisor position

JIM ODOM

Jim Odom of Bay St. Louis has announced his candidacy for Beat Four supervisor.

Odom, 39, is a graduate of Picayune High School, and attended Jeff Davis Junior College. He earned a degree in electronics, broadcasting and business management from Elkins Institute in New Orleans, La. He is a Vietnam veteran and a member of American Legion Post 139.

Odom is married to the former Mary Gillis Raybire and has lived in Hancock County for 17 years.

"I am well experienced at handling taxpayers' dollars. I have worked hard the past two years to bring the county jail system to the best of standards and to make it self-sufficient and a sole supporting facility which has already saved the taxpayers of Hancock County hundreds of thousands of dollars," Odom said.

"I have worked closely with Pearl River Junior College, obtaining state funding for a full-time agricultural instructor—which produced fresh vegetables for the jail facility and a great deal of fresh produce for our senior citizens.

"I established a program to train inmates to prepare their own food in the jail. Other training includes work on the county farm and other county projects, such as grass cutting, maintaining county buildings, roads and trash pickups.

"I have worked closely with the Department of Immigration and Naturalization on the ultimate program of housing federal prisoners at an annual income of almost half a million dollars each year," he said.

"As Beat Four supervisor I would like to see such programs as this expanded to bring monies into our general fund to help make the entire sheriff's department self sufficient saving tax dollars.

- "I would work to:
1. Make the unit system work.
 2. Establish a countywide paving program.
 3. Finding available grants for needed county programs.
 4. Persuade business and industries to come to Hancock County for more jobs.

5. Support local fire and law protection.

"I ask the citizens of Beat Four to give me the chance to work even harder for them and for the chance to work with the present board members to bring more jobs and a county form of government they can be proud of," Odom concluded.

Coast Episcopal hosts open house tonight

Coast Episcopal Elementary School will hold an open house for parents on Thursday, Sept. 15 at 7 p.m.

Parents and faculty will first meet in Virginia Hall of Christ Episcopal Church, 912 South Beach Boulevard, for a general program with Mrs. Betsy Grant, Coast Episcopal Elementary School principal, and other special activities teachers.

The regular classroom teachers will meet with the parents and discuss the curriculum in their classroom.

Parents are asked not to bring children to the open house.

For more information, call 467-5125.

Taylor fund raiser cancelled tonight

A wine and cheese party at the South Beach home of Madeleine and Bob Breeden tonight for supporters of candidate Gene Taylor, has been cancelled, according to a spokesperson with the Taylor campaign.

Gilbert

Mexico, so weather forecasters could try to predict the path of the Category Five hurricane.

Hancock County and the Mississippi Gulf Coast was ranked over by Hurricane Camille in 1969, a Category Five storm.

Barometric pressure in the path of Gilbert, which has had winds in excess of 175 miles per hour, already has been the lowest ever recorded.

Boudin said he was hoping Gilbert would by-pass the area, but said everyone should be prepared in case it does strike here.

The CD director urged those who seek shelter to remember to bring some type of non-perishable foods, blankets, bedding and make sure they have medications.

Sandwiches will be available after a certain length of time at the shelters, Boudin said.

"Those with a baby should remember to bring diapers," Boudin stated.

"Our goal is to try to help make those use shelters if they are necessary as comfortable as possible," Boudin emphasized.

Garcia at the Red Cross office received late Wednesday a shipment of supplies from the headquarters in preparation for the storm's threat.

"The shelter coordinators made a list of the things persons asked for last week at the shelters; I called it in to Red Cross headquarters, and we now have the requested items on hand," Garcia stated late Wednesday.

Bill Johnson, Hancock County maintenance superintendent, reported all of his county crews were on standby, and would not possibly know anything until some time Thursday.

Supervisor Mike Ladner reported they were ready just like they were last week in case Gilbert moves into the area.

Business and homeowners were busy Wednesday making some preparations such as boarding and taping up windows. Some still had the preparations for Hurricane Florence.

The approved shelter regulations for Hancock County shelters are:

—There shall be no smoking other than in the designated area.

—The shelter coordinator shall have total responsibility for shelter operations and all directions given by the shelter coordinator must be followed immediately.

—Alcoholic beverages are not allowed on the shelter premises.

—All trash and personal debris must be placed in trash containers.

—Firearms and explosives are not allowed on the shelter premises.

—No animals are allowed on the shelter premises.

—No personal cooking is allowed on the shelter premises.

—No pets are allowed on the shelter premises.

—Smoking is allowed only in the shelter premises.

—All children under 18 years of age must be under the direct supervision of an adult.

—The shelter coordinator has authority to add regulations to the above if in his/her opinion such additional regulations are required for efficient shelter operations.

Persons violating the regulations shall be requested to permanently leave a shelter.

Boudin said shelters will be opened on an as-needed basis if necessary.

United Way needs the help of everyone

The United Way of Hancock County's fund drive was officially opened yesterday with a Kick-off Breakfast.

The United Way's goal for 1988 is $70,000, an increase of $5,000 over last year's.

There are so many local residents who are touched each year with the monies collected by the United Way.

The 18 agencies of the local United Way reach from pre-natal to senior citizen and all ages in between.

The two new agencies this year for the local United Way are the St. Michael's Farm for Boys and the Gulf Coast Women's Center.

These two fine organizations join the Hancock County Emergency Relief, Gulf Coast Mental Health, Mississippi Council of Epilepsy, Inc., Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross, Hancock County Blood Bank, Senior Citizens Programs, Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), Catholic Social Services, Salvation Army and Goodwill Industries.

Other agencies are U.S.O. (Worldwide), Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Hancock County Firemen's Doll and Toy Fund, Hancock County 4-H, and the Hancock County Food Pantry.

It takes a lot of time and effort in order to organize a fund drive of this magnitude, yet it is possible here in Hancock County with the help of so many.

Dave Treutel Jr. is the campaign's chairman this year with co-chairmen Randy Costello, Lonnie Clayborn, Clarice Gustin, Pat Harvill, Sherrell Johnson, Jo Ann Lagasse, Steve Planchard, Ken Walker and the officers and directors.

The goal is a reality and can be reached through their efforts and the support of the community.

One of the goals of this year's campaign is to make sure our United Way receives all payroll deductions made by the residents of our county.

If you are a resident of Hancock County and are employed in another county or state and make a contribution through your company's payroll deduction, you may want to check and see if your United Way receives your contributions.

The cooperation of many of our industries and businesses enabling employees to make payroll deductions is on an increase and this is very good.

We appreciate the help of these industries and businesses and thank management for giving employees an opportunity to make contributions to the United Way through payroll deductions.

Give the United Way—Thanks to you it works—For all of us.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Last Friday night's football was Monday night football due to Hurricane Florence.

The games were rescheduled on Monday due to the weather and it is hoped the same thing will not happen again this week.

With Hurricane Gilbert in the Gulf, anything is possible.

The Hawks of Hancock North Central kept their winning string alive with a victory over Pearl River Central Monday and will visit Poplarville this week.

The Hawks appear to be on their way to another good season and should be prepared for a good game with Poplarville.

Bay High's Tigers got into the winning column with a victory over the Pirates of Pass Christian and will visit Pearl River Central, a team still stinging from a loss to the Hawks.

The Tigers will have to have a flawless game to down Pearl River Central.

Pass Christian lost to the Tigers on Monday and will be trying to get back into the win column when they visit St. Martin's Yellow Jackets this week.

The Pirates will need to go all out to down the Yellow Jackets.

The Rock-A-Chaws of St. Stanislaus got into the win column by defeating the St. John's Eagles on Monday. This week the Rocks will test Warren Easton in the Stanislaus stadium.

A victory over the Louisiana school is a possibility and would be a good boost for the young team.

We wish all of our local high school teams good luck this week and also hope to see you at the game.

Preparations for Hurricane Gilbert have been underway for several days now and we are glad to see folks taking the storm seriously.

It is always hard to predict the course of a hurricane and Gilbert is no exception.

Like everyone else we are hoping the storm will go elsewhere or better than that, break up before striking land again.

Reports we have heard and seen indicate the islands the storm passed over suffered very serious damages.

We need to continue our preparations until the hurricane is no longer a threat.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Appreciation shown for Hancock Medical

To the Editor:

I am writing to get this letter in the editorial section and the subject is the Hancock Medical Center.

I recently moved to this area and have a number of serious medical problems. I have also been in a number of hospitals across this country.

Here in Bay St. Louis, I have found more sincere medical doctors, and the physical therapy part of the Hancock Medical Center is more courteous and efficient and clean than any other place I have used for my health problem.

The people who work in the unit are very serious in their job and show concern about a patient. The doctors here that I have used also show interest in the problem the patient is facing and they take time to listen and try to help the patient.

The staff at the medical center, as well as at the doctor's office, are also very concerned and polite.

Thank you,
Eddie Padgett

Caring gestures shown at hurricane's threat

Dear Sir,

Just when I was getting used to the idea of leaving Bay St. Louis for a few years, along comes Hurricane Florence, which with her brought out all the wonderful caring people in Bay St. Louis—especially the Bay St. Louis Police Department.

With my husband away, I decided to stay at my office on Main Street with my children. The police saw us at the office and checked to see if everything was okay. Not once did they do this, but several times an hour throughout the evening and early morning. What a great feeling it was to know that help was right there should we have needed it.

When my husband was able to get a call through to us on Sunday—he is floating somewhere out in the middle of the Gulf aboard the USS Lexington—he said to send his thanks to each and everyone of you.

Our heartfelt thanks goes out to each and everyone of you and your families.

Yours very sincerely,
AGSC and Mrs. T. Latham

Insurance carriers must meet the needs of customers

Dear Editor:

Recent news items relating to the insurance industry in Mississippi may have left the impression that it is impossible for insurance companies to make a profit in your state. I think that is simply untrue.

Certainly, insurance carriers are facing some difficult times. The litigation frenzy and accompanying legal fees are part of the problem. Inconsistent interstate regulations are another. But, for an insurance company to abdicate its own responsibilities to its policyholder, while pointing an accusing finger at the Mississippi Insurance Commission is irresponsible and unjustified. In my experience, the department has always been fair minded, objective and very cooperative.

Perhaps, instead of shifting blame, insurance companies in Mississippi should spend more time getting their own houses in order. I would suggest that an insurer's primary goal should be to look for innovative ways to better meet the needs of the customer. The industry can go a long way toward profitability by simply being better business people.

I will not deny the need for enlightened legislation on the matter of skyrocketing personal injury awards, but, the more than 60 agents who are selling Preferred Risk policies in Mississippi are simply working harder in the state and, to me, that makes more sense than "casting stones" at public servants.

Sincerely,
Robert M. Plunk

Governmental reorganization crucial to Mississippi future

Last week I wrote about the proposed streamlining of state government to make it more efficient and effective.

I mentioned that an estimated $60 million a year could be saved under the plan recommended by the state Executive Branch Reorganization Study Committee recently.

I noted the relationship between how our state government is structured and how well Mississippi competes economically.

This week I would like to elaborate on why a reorganization of state government is important to our economic future.

As the report points out, Mississippi is as much in competition with Japan and Brazil as it is with Alabama and Tennessee.

So many major increases in international trade have occurred that the economy of every state and region is now significantly influenced by worldwide economic activities.

In historical terms, this worldwide competition is relatively recent. And, if Mississippi acts now, it is not too late to make some of the changes necessary to benefit our citizens in the long-term future.

The key here is planning—something that is lacking today due to the structure of state government.

The commission's report points out that no overall state plans exist for any state programs. More seriously, no structure exists for the development and enforcement of the plans.

"States that take the appropriate actions today will provide their citizens with a better way of life for years to come...To meet this challenge, Mississippi's leaders must develop a firm understanding of the state's current economic conditions, design a strong, courageous economic growth program, and implement that program with vigor.

A failure to do so is likely to relegate the people of Mississippi to the bottom of the nation's economic ladder for the majority of the 21st century," the report concluded.

Although I am still reviewing the commission's report before I make my own recommendations, I share the commission's concerns.

State government is a multi-billion dollar business in which all citizens are stockholders. We would be appalled at any business that does not plan, thoroughly and completely. Why then should we be any less shocked to find that the executive branch of state government is set up on a way that makes decent planning nearly impossible?

We are doing all we can in the area of education to help improve the long-term economic prospects of our state. We have had some genuine successes including the teacher pay increase approved this year.

But educational improvements alone are not enough. We must give all of state government a sense of purpose and direction through planning. That is why we need to streamline and reorganize state government.

Q. Which president served in the Mississippi Army National Guard?
A. Trick question. Jefferson Davis, who served as president of the Confederacy, was a Mississippi Militiaman, famous for his victory at the Battle of Buena Vista, Mexico.

charges will be removed from his record at the end of the probation period, Genin explained.

If he fails to comply, the judge can adjudicate him guilty and give him the appropriate sentence.

Genin also stated that if Field and Prendergast comply with their probation, it will be "basically up to their departments" whether they can return to their previous occupations.

Thomas asked the two about their current occupations and income. Both men are working for the City of Waveland at minimum wage jobs, and Thomas agreed to let them handle the fines through monthly payments.

In addition, he said the two could work the 100 hours of community service each by working at their regular jobs without pay for 100 hours, if the city agrees.

The judge said he did not ask for restitution for the victim of the crime, Ford Motor Credit, because Field had already paid for the vehicle involved.

Thomas made several comments during the sentencing hearing, including, "It doesn't matter how bright you think you are, you're not going to get away with it."

He also commented that he would not have considered a $1500 each fine had the two defendants not been public servants at the time the crime was committed.

Two charged with possession

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Hancock County Sheriff's Department has arrested two men and confiscated four bags containing an undetermined amount of cocaine.

Tony L. Carr, 27, of Alma, Ark., and Perry C. Feigle, 31, of Route Five, Bay St. Louis have been charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to distribute, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said.

The two were arrested at about 9:45 p.m. Friday in a motel room in Waveland.

Peterson said a search was conducted and four plastic bags containing cocaine were found.

Investigator Glen Strong said the amount of the cocaine had not yet been determined.

He also stated that other items found indicated that the cocaine would be cut and repackaged for sale.

About $200 in cash was found and the department will go through the usual court procedures to try to obtain the money for the department's narcotics fund.

Assisting Strong on the scene were Auxiliary Deputies David Garcia, Nathan "Corky" Hoda, Barry Hoda, Kenneth Hoda and Donald Hoda.

A special tribunal in Stone County found him unqualified as the Democratic nominee for the post.

Breland had asked for a leave of absence from the Democratic executive committee from August to October of 1987 to run for supervisor.

According to the suit, Breland's opponent Orbin Mallett protested because Breland continued to participate in Democratic executive committee meetings during preparation for the election and actually helped as a committee member on the night of an Aug. 27 primary.

The suit states that he handled the ballots and other election paraphernalia until the consideration of the ballots for the Beat Four supervisor race.

Bourg's situation differs because she will not be helping with a primary for the November election.

The court opinion in the Breland case cites Meeks vs. Tallahassee and states, "Accordingly, this court concludes that the penalty clause of the statute which prohibits a member of the Election Commission from being a candidate during the term of their office as election commissioner equally applies to a person who was a member of the Democratic Executive Committee of Stone County, Mississippi."

That statute, Section

23-15-217 of the Mississippi Code of 1972, states in part, "A commissioner of election of any county shall not be a candidate for any office at any election for which he may have been elected or with reference to which he has acted as such, and all votes cast for any such person at such election shall be illegal and shall not be counted."

Also, Section 23-15-263 states, "The county executive committee at primary elections shall discharge the functions imposed upon the county election commissioners...and shall be subject to all penalties to which county election commissioners are subject."

Charles Gottschalk, who heads the Hancock County Election Commission, commented, "The election commission does not like the law and we feel its unconstitutional," explaining that the statutes themselves have never been challenged in court.

"We may not like the law but as long as it exists, it's our duty to follow the law."

"I hope she goes to court, because that way we'll have a decision one way or another."

Bourg is attempting to run in a special election to replace the county's Beat Three supervisor due to an "Operation Pre-emptive" resignation. A special election for supervisor will also be conducted in Beat Four.

cases of deposit, and other investments, according to Olsen.

Olsen was budgeted a pay increase from $36,500 to $40,150, which he contends is still much less than that for similar positions along the coast.

In other business, the commission approved a sewer and water rate increase for the port and airport. The increase will increase utilities revenue by $1,109.

With the increase, utilities rates at the two parks are now competitive with rates in other parks, Olsen said.

Bay sets city millage, school rate anticipated

BY D.C. HARVILL

The Bay St. Louis City Council adopted a municipal millage rate for fiscal year 1988-89 Tuesday, and was expected to make a decision on a school rate Wednesday night.

The municipal rate will remain the same as it has for the past two years at 30.85 mills, while the school rate is expected to increase by 11 percent.

The school's rate was expected to be 44.45 mills for a combined total of 75.30 mills, but it was discovered that the proposed purchase of new school buses included in the figure is not exempted in a state regulation which limits the school tax increase to 10 percent per year, according to City Clerk Eddie Favre.

The city recommended to the school board that they acquire a short-term loan for the bus purchase.

Favre said, at Wednesday's special meeting he would propose a flat 43 mill rate for the schools, bringing the combined total down to 73.85.

The schools' 11 percent increase, while over the 10 percent limit, is permissible because new programs mandated by the state and new construction projects in the school district are exempted from the limit.

As long as the school's rate increase is under the limit the council is required to pass the budget, according to Favre.

While the city's millage will not increase its budget will increase by approximately five and one-half percent to $6,051,477, Favre said, "argely due to its current saving project."

Fall fashions reflect local buying trends

BY JANET MCQUEEN
Falling leaves enhancing a background of autumn colors signal a semi-annual wardrobe shift for closets across America. Fashions that are embraced in New York and Los Angeles are considered, but not always chosen by Gulf Coast residents...as Southern women prefer to opt for comfort and casual elegance. Trends do emerge as store owners record their customer preferences. The fickle hemline will remain stylishly short or extremely long, with traditional below-the-knee styles also acceptable for the conservative dresser.

Jane Ann Fahey of The Princess Shoppe indicates that many of her customers will choose a hemline at will, depending on the occasion. Many contemporary customers still prefer longer lengths. Sea Chest owner Rochelle Buchanan reports hemlines going "down, down, down" with only the junior customer choosing a mini-length.

Buchanan sites washable knits as the key to fall wardrobe planning. "The fabric fits our 'laid back' lifestyle here on the Coast, and is great for traveling," she said. Sweater knits in pants and skirts and interlock knit separates rank high on her list of customer wants.

Shoulder definition is less severe than in recent seasons, but Fahey finds that most customers prefer a slightly built-up shoulder over an unlined version. Pads can be purchased separately and worn with any ensemble.

The reappearance of pants as a fashion staple is a welcome sight for many. "Pants are shown for casual, dress and party attire," according to Fahey. Leg widths run the gamut of tapered, wide, cropped and voluminous...again left to the taste and figure of the individual. Patterned hosiery and stylish socks complete one's coordinated look.

Black, a fashion favorite for several seasons, is often teamed with brights. Fahey reports graphite as an alternative to black, and is seen in many fall lines including jewelry.

Most of the young America is "mad for plaid" (although not completely confined to a favorite of the young) as the conservative fabric is seen in every possible wardrobe component, including jewelry and hair accessories.

Kid Company owner Nancy Uram also acknowledges the trend, but remarks that the plaid uniforms of many area elementary school students lessen the appeal of the traditional fabric.

She sees indigo denim as strong in boys and girls lines, replacing the distressed denim of several seasons. Printed denim is also popular, as is all-cotton French terry or all-cotton anything for that matter.

Uram reports the shorter lengths as still popular with pre-teens, who also choose longer lengths for different occasions. Coordinated legwear is a must, worn with flats, saddle oxfords or the like.

Hair bows, she describes, "the bigger the better", are immensely popular.

The typical Anthony's customer will choose natural fabrics and a relaxed, comfortable fit according to Pam Parker. Pleated front slacks, cotton sweaters and button-down collars do extremely well.

This season, however, there are other options—skirts also just cover the knee, and some actually drop to midcalf.

For the most part, the emphasis is on body-consciousness, no matter what the length. Those sleek, form-fitting styles are here to stay, at least for the moment.

In what seems to be an attempt to avoid the hemline controversy altogether, designers are putting a lot of energy into pants for fall, turning out a wide variety of styles, from classic trousers to slightly offbeat cropped pants with wide legs. For dressing up, look for romantic, billowy evening pants.

Skirts and pants also are being paired with a number of jacket shapes to create wonderfully pulled-together and interesting suits.

Suits are decided style staples for the upcoming season. Cropped, fitted jackets, on top of slim skirts, create what could be the look for fall, but certainly not the only one.

FABULOUS FASHION TIPS FOR THE SHORTER MAN

We live in a physical world and we judge each other, to a significant degree, by the way we look. Obviously, our appearance is affected greatly by the clothes that we are wearing. With this in mind, here are 10 fashion tips for the shorter man.

It is important to bear in mind that the object is to look one's best, and not to go to unusual extremes to try and appear tall.

The shorter man (under 5'8") should

1. Proper proportions—This is the most important consideration. Are the clothes designed for the person's build (height, weight, chest, waist, etc.)? Is it the proper size range (i.e. short, extra short, portly short or portly extra short)?
2. Proper fit—After the basic proportions have been determined to be correct, then have the final adjustments been made so the clothes will be properly fit for that particular individual?
3. Exaggerated patterns and colors—These are to be avoided. However, shorter men can wear plaids and other patterns as long as they are reasonable.

Color takes center stage for fall accessories

This fall, color is the key to fashion accessories. From handbags and gloves, to scarves and belts, rich jewel tones will enhance accessories and add freshness to fall ready-to-wear.

Aris Isotoner, leading manufacturer of gloves and knit accessories, has these suggestions to help give your wardrobe a complete and updated look:

- Scarves—Oversized is the key to this grouping. Fall neckwear is patterned, colorful and luxurious. Look for tapestry and paisley prints, florals, houndstooth, checks and plaids, plus velvet touches for day, trimmed with metallic for evening.
- Functional scarves in cable, ribbed and heathered knits, as well as cowls, funnels and hoods, will keep you warm and looking good at the same time.
- Gloves—The news is longer lengths. Look for them made of satin in vibrant colors for a hot evening look, as well as in leather, knit and the newest sueded Isotoners for a chic daytime look.
- Ties made of real and faux furs, contrast piping and any kind of decoration, such as ribbons, bows, buttons or fringe, add the finishing touches to an updated look for fall '88.
- Handbags—Whether your hemline is short or long, there's a handbag designed

Individual sense of style key to fall menswear trends

Neutral colors are news, again, and conservative, traditional attire takes the menswear spotlight for fall '88, as designers and manufacturers respond to economic shifts with styles that are meant to reassure, clothes that are meant to last.

After seasons of playful design concepts, fall '88 promises a renewal of investment dressing as a major fashion force.

Black, brown and gray—alone and in combination—are prominent colors, such classics as the houndstooth check boast renewed vitality, and argyle vests go everywhere.

In sportswear, the aviator look, perennially popular, is even more popular for fall '88, as blouson jackets in leathers and denims are paired with pants which boast pockets here, there and everywhere—fashion taking off from function, and soaring.

And preppy clothes have been reinterpreted by European sensibilities and re-infused into the American fashion scene, their differences creating fashion waves on both sides of the Atlantic.

Classics these items are, but in the hands of talented designers working in both America and Europe, they take on new appeal, as twists on the traditional are the order of the day.

Houndstooth, for instance, is available not merely in black and white, but in blue and black, camel and gray, purple and gray, and just about every other color combination you can imagine. And, it makes its mark in a wide range of sizes, from tiny to enormous, proving its graphic appeal is equal only to its classic rightness.

And the ubiquitous argyle vest follows suit, appearing equally at home as an accent for business attire, or with jeans for weekend relaxing, and making an important fashion statement in various sizes and color combinations.

It's here, if anywhere, that bright hues appear, as the fall '88 color palette reverses trends of a year ago, when bright was big, and brighter, even bigger.

Neutrals and earth tones dominate, and other colors appear as accents, with purple perhaps the most popular, certainly the newest and most exciting.

Thus, sweaters and ties, socks and other accessories can be surprisingly bright against the subdued, subtle tone of clothing meant to last.

Visual excitement comes, in large part, therefore, from the ways in which individual garments are combined, as patterns are layered with other patterns, the mixture and variety creating a sense of dynamism that is a significant ingredient in fall '88 fashion.

In harmony with the conservative mood is the continued emphasis on formal dressing, both for black tie events and at-home entertaining, as traditional evening attire is enlivened with luxurious brocades, shimmering velvets.

Luxe silken cummerbunds in a myriad of patterns are among readily available accessories, which aid American men in adding a distinctly personal touch to even the most classic formal attire.

As low-key as most of fall '88 menswear undoubtedly is, its very subtleties are the basis for the fashion flexibility that contemporary men have come, over the years, to demand as their right.

Clothing this unfussy, this sophisticated; this subtle, lends itself with ease to a wide range of uses and styles, allowing each man the opportunity to mix and match his clothing with a freedom he once lacked.

And, it's in combination—any one of thousands of combinations—that menswear for fall '88 really struts its stuff, demonstrating, for all to see and appreciate, its own brand of excitement, intimately tied to each man's individual taste and sense of style, as he learns to put clothing together in his own, special way.

This is a fashion lesson that will stand him in good stead through season after season to come, as he develops fashion confidence that can transcend seasonal style fluctuations, even as he sifts through them for clothing that is right, not only for the season, but, most important of all, for the man who will be wearing it.

HOME FASHIONS—An assortment of home accessories are displayed from Ellen Kane Gifts on Highway 90, Bay St. Louis. FABULOUS FASHION TIPS FOR THE SHORTER MAN

We live in a physical world and we judge each other, to a significant degree, by the way we look. Obviously, our appearance is affected greatly by the clothes that we are wearing. With this in mind, here are 10 fashion tips for the shorter man.

Keep in mind

It is important to bear in mind that the object is to look one's best, and not to go to unusual extremes to try and appear tall.

The shorter man (under 5'8") should not have to wear only conservative stripes and dark solid suits! Please note that many of the items would be relevant for men (and women) of any height.

Ten tips

1. Proper proportions—This is the most important consideration. Are the clothes designed for the person's build (height, weight, chest, waist, etc.)? Is it the proper size range (ie. short, extra short, portly short or portly extra short)?
2. Proper fit—After the basic proportions have been determined to be correct, then have the final adjustments been made so the clothes will be properly fit for that particular individual?
3. Exaggerated patterns and colors—These are to be avoided. However, shorter men can wear plaids and other patterns as long as they are reasonable.

4. Classic looks will serve one best in the long run. Avoid severe styles and silhouettes that are very "baggy" or very tight.

5. Avoid cuffs, as they tend to break up the leg line.

6. Emphasize quality in fabrics and construction. Most garments look good on a hanger, but what really counts is how they look after repeated wearings and dry cleanings.

7. Natural fibers and quality blends should be emphasized for comfort and "wearability."

8. Three button models can be a bit overpowering.

9. Pleated slacks and double breasted coats are fine, as long as the proportions and the fit are correct.

10. Proper care, rotation and regular dry cleaning are important in maintaining a quality wardrobe.

TIPS FOR DRESSING RIGHT IN THE OFFICE

Men, do you spend extra time in front of the mirror each morning before work, frantically trying to decide whether your tie is too loud, your shirt the wrong color?

When shopping, do you shy away from certain colors, afraid that they're just not appropriate for your office? It's time to conquer your fear of office fashion.

The basic colors for men's suits and jackets are gray, brown, black, navy, medium blue, camel and beige. However, black suits usually look overpowering on men, while brown looks best on older men.

You're better off sticking to the other colors for suits, but both black and brown are the best colors for briefcases and accessories. If you like stripes and patterns, keep them subdued.

For dress shirts, it's best to stick to white, ivory and light blue. In some offices, even light blue isn't conservative enough.

Bored already? Cheer up—you can express yourself with your tie. A bright tie, especially one which is predominantly red, makes a strong statement.

The three traditional tie patterns are foulard, repp, and club. Foulard ties are those with small printed designs, repp ties have diagonal stripes, and club ties have small, repeated motifs, such as birds or horseshoes.

You don't have to choose from only these three; paisley patterns are usually very attractive.

But the key word to keep in mind is "tasteful." We've all seen horrible ties. Go through your closet with a critical eye, and get rid of any that you think might be borderline cases.

The best way to find out what is appropriate for your own particular work environment is to observe continually what your coworkers are wearing.

Remember, clothes make the man. The impression you make on others can be crucial to your career.

FASHION HINTS FOR THE PETITE WOMAN

If you are a petite woman (5'4" or under), high style does not have to be out of your reach. By following three basic principles of fashion, you can create longitude in your wardrobe and always look your best.

No matter what the "in" styles may be, the principles of line, proportion and balance will never change.

When choosing clothes, the petite woman always should remember that the eyes will follow the dominant line of an outfit, whether the line is in the fabric, print or cut of the clothing.

For the smaller woman, therefore, it is best to make sure the dominant line in an outfit is vertical.

So, if you're a petite woman, hold your chin high, follow these simple fashion principles and dress with flair easily.

For fall, athletic sneakers are "out"—dress casuals are "in"

Today's fashion trends declare that wearing athletic sneakers with business attire is no longer "in." The running shoes and sneakers that millions of New Yorkers put on during the 1980 train and bus strike are no longer "trendy" dress casuals are.

Casual dressing comfort is now being demanded by Americans in their day-to-day footwear," states John Stevenson, president of the world's most recognized brand of shoe, Hush Puppies.

The support and comfortable feel that people enjoy in athletic walking and running shoes, can now be found in casual and dress shoes for women and men.

Technological advances in the manufacture of footwear are reasons why new casual comfort is now available in everything from Wingtips for men to high heels for women.

Polyurethane is a new comfort ingredient Hush Puppies currently incorporates into the soles of both their casual and dress shoes for men and women.

"This exceptionally lightweight material," states Stevenson, "offers remarkable cushioning features that simulate only the softness of a well-worn carpet floor, streets and sidewalks as it provides a bounciness and flexibility in each step."

Feather-light foams between the outer and inner soles also are being added to today's footwear fashions for even greater cushioning comfort at "impact zones" and "flexibility features" reduce foot and leg fatigue.

Flats, a long-time fashion favorite for females, are taking on renewed importance this fall with the prevalence of "poly bottoms" and vibrant colors of reds, yellows, oranges and greens.

Comfort-seeking men are also enjoying remarkably lightweight black oxfords in both their favorite dress and casual shoe styles as well.

Moccasins, especially hand-sewn, are also "trendy" looks for men and women this fall.

Hush Puppies' Stevenson states simply that, "fall '88 is a season of common sense footwear."

Lingerie luxury: Beauty beneath

Fashion's fancy for the feminine continues for fall '88. Fabrics are sumptuous, the silhouette is sleek. Last season's ingenuie has grown up—this fall's style strategy is sophisticated and soigné.

Classics reign supreme—an impeccably-cut silk blouse and wide-legged, deeply-pleated grey flannel palazzo pants (they're the season's hottest look; these are from Carmelo Pomodoro) become the new indispensable ensemble, perfect for day or night.

Designers' romance with the body beautiful is far from over, though, and from a second-skin fit to a plunging scoop neckline, lean and clean are still the shapes of things to come.

What's worn beneath takes on even greater importance when fashion bares to there. Innerwear takes on a new dimension, becoming the season's definitive accessory. No longer banished to the boudoir, today's lingerie is too beautiful to be kept under wraps.

Lingerie can provide the special answers to difficult style questions, as well.

There's a style available to enhance even the most dramatic outfits—and, in some cases, lingerie can stand on its own as outerwear.

Take the deep v-neckline of the blouse shown here, for example. A plain brassiere doesn't work; a simple camisole is rather dull. From the Guy Laroche collection, made in the USA and designed by Lynne Greene, comes the answer—a black lace teddy of "Antron" and "Lycra" (pictured), a one-piece that not only provides just the right amount of elegance to peek out from beneath a low-cut blouse, but also prevents unsightly panty lines under pants (and pants are the must-haves for the season).

This is fashion that functions—a v-shaped panel on the garment's front helps define the waist and smooth the tummy. And the blend of "Antron" and "Lycra" guarantees flattering figure control under even the sleekest silhouettes.

Innerwear becomes outerwear—to-day's lingerie is the chic solution for those impossible wardrobe dilemmas.

THE FACES OF FALL—The Princess Shoppe presents three looks for the autumn season. Karyn Foster sports the preppy look in teal and black plaid walking shorts with cotton floral print shirt, topped with a burgundy cable knit sweater to fend off cool breezes and a jaunty black beret. Kathy Carpenter's cotton viyella dress is fashioned with dropped waist and is shown in red and black with black trim. An excellent choice for the homecoming game is Amy Simpson's teal blue suit, featuring double breasted blazer and pleated skirt with taupe silk blouse and paisley print scarf. COOKING BY THE BOOK

By Katy McGuire
Caire

In 'New Orleans Scrapbook' (Plantain Publishing, Metairie, La., hard cover, $15.95) Ross Yockey has given us a memorable melange, a delightful mixture of history and humor, of family remembrances and nostalgia, along with wry observations on New Orleans and the Mississippi Gulf Coast and life in general.

In smooth flowing prose, interspersed with excursions into rhyme, the author paints vivid word pictures of days gone by: the old Creole songs, the cries of the street vendors in old New Orleans, along with a grandson's warm recollections of his grandfather in the Crescent City; of summers on the Coast, of people and places and historical events and milestones, and even tosses into the mixture several 'handed down' Creole recipes.

Noting that "more imagination is lavished on food here than anywhere else on earth" the author gives us, along with other recipes, his family's tried and true formulas for Creole bread pudding, dear to the heart and palate of anyone born and reared in New Orleans, as he was.

On a humorous note, Yockey tells us the "real way to gay New Orleans," giving us a number of choices, but urging the reader never to say 'Orleans' as so many outsiders do.

A series of photo montages by Joann Yockey, the author's wife, add interest to the book. Yockey, best known for his film and TV work, has written extensively on the South and Southerners for regional magazines.

And, like so many of us fortunate enough to live on our Gulf Coast, or visit over the years, the author observes that "There's no place like a beach for dreaming."

Let's hope that he'll return to the beach and 'dreams up' another book!

Biehl qualifies for District 4 post

ALBERT BIEHL III

Albert D. Biehl III has announced his candidacy for Hancock County Board of Supervisors, Beat Four.

The 39-year-old native of Bay St. Louis is married to the former Mary E. Seymour and has three children; Albert IV, 13; Ruth, 11; and Alycia, 9.

Biehl is a 1968 graduate of Bay Senior High School. He attended Pearl River Junior College and graduated from Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College in 1971 in the field of mechanical drafting and design. He was graduated from Gulfport Police Training School in 1971. He is a licensed master plumber and has worked in the construction field for 24 years, responsible for crews of up to 20 people on a job site.

Presently the meat market manager at National Food Store in Waveland where he is a 13-year employee, he is also employed as a full-time deputy sheriff by Hancock County for the past eight years.

He is president of the Hancock County Lawmen's Association; a member of the Knights of Columbus, the St. Stanislaus Sideline Club and works with the Boy Scouts of America.

He has served as vice president of the Bay St. Louis Jaycees for two years; was a member of a number of Hancock County Volunteer Fire Departments; a member of the Bay St. Louis Police Auxiliary Department for five years and was a full-time officer for five years. He served one and one-half years as president of the Bay-side Fire District.

Biehl received the Outstanding Young Man and Outstanding Jaycee awards in 1971, the U.S. Jaycee Spark Plug and Speak Up awards in 1972. He has participated in a number of law-related seminars and in 1988 was named an Outstanding Law Enforcement Officer by MADD.

"As supervisor, I would be for the county unit system and the further development of it; increased law enforcement and fire protection; and a better education for our county. I can do the job of supervisor by helping to create more and better jobs; lower insurance rates; help to create a smoother operation of government; and give us all a better place in which to live and raise our families," said Biehl.

GUARD FACTS
On February 23, 1847, Colonel Jefferson Davis' "Mississippi Rifles" confronted the Mexican Army at Buena Vista, Mexico. The Mississippians, outnumbered four to one, routed the Mexicans. What was Colonel Davis' famous battle cry at that day?
A: "Stand Fast, Mississippians!" is the motto still used today by the 1st Battalion, 15th Infantry, headquartered in McComb. The unit, formerly the 1st Mississippi Regiment, is the seventh oldest military unit in the United States.

Hancock Welfare Dept. to distribute commodities

The Hancock County Welfare Department will distribute USDA commodity—butter, flour and powdered milk on Wednesday, Sept. 21, at the American Legion hall on Coleman Avenue in Waveland.

Distribution hours will be from 9:30 a.m. until all of the commodities are gone, but no later than 2 p.m. Eligible recipients are those who receive food stamps or low income households who have applied for commodities at the Welfare Department and have been determined eligible.

Participants must have signed vouchers with them in order to receive commodities. If a participant wishes to have someone else pick up their commodities, the voucher must be signed on the front and on the back, and the person picking up the commodities must sign it on the back and bring it to the distribution site.

Participants are reminded that they can only pick up commodities for two households at a time, and that they will have to carry the commodities they pick up.

Non-food stamp recipients may apply for commodities at the Welfare Department Monday, Sept. 19 through Wednesday, Sept. 21 (the day of distribution). Application will not be taken at the distribution site.

The food Distribution Program is available to all eligible recipients regardless of race, color, national origin, religion, age, sex or handicap.

Quick-to-fix omelets feature Cajun-style filling

Cajun cooking—what started off as just another food trend has launched a culinary revolution, as America's cooks rediscover America's regional cooking styles.

Quick Cajun Omelets are rich in the soul-satisfying flavors that make down-home fare so tantalizing, yet they can be ready-to-eat in minutes, a convenience to which we've grown accustomed. For the filling, bottled chili sauce is combined with the Cajun cooks' "trinity" of onions, green peppers and celery and seasoned in the traditional manner with thyme and cayenne (red) pepper. Crabmeat adds yet another taste of the bayou bounty.

The technique for making a basic omelet is actually quite simple. Follow the instructions in the recipe below, using a well-seasoned or non-stick finish, slope-sided pan for best results. The secret to success is to keep the egg mixture moving. If the omelet should tear while folding, simply place the torn side facing the plate when you turn it out of the pan.

Quick Cajun Omelets make a nutritious main dish for breakfast, brunch, lunch or dinner. The 2 eggs in each omelet provide enough protein to equal a meat serving, all of the vitamins, except vitamin C, and many essential minerals.

QUICK CAJUN OMELETS
4 servings

1 bottle (12 oz.) chili sauce
1 1/2 cups (6 oz.) chopped thawed frozen whitefish/crabmeat blend or 1 package (6 oz.) frozen crabmeat, thawed, drained and flaked or 1 can (6.5 oz.) crabmeat, drained and flaked
1/4 cup chopped green onions with tops
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 cup chopped celery
1/4 teaspoon thyme leaves, crushed
1/8 teaspoon ground red pepper
8 eggs
1/2 cup water
1/4 cup butter, divided

In small saucepan, stir together chili sauce, crabmeat, onions, green pepper, celery and seasonings. Cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally, until mixture is heated through. Keep warm while preparing omelets.

Beat together eggs and water until blended. For each omelet, in 7- to 10-inch omelet pan or skillet over medium-high heat, heat 1 tablespoon of the butter until just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water. Pour in 1/2 cup of the egg mixture. (Mixture should set immediately at edges.) With an inverted pancake turner, carefully push cooked portions at edges toward center so uncooked portions can reach hot pan surface, tilting pan and moving cooked portions as necessary.

While top is still moist and creamy-looking, fill with about 1/3 cup of the crab mixture. With pancake turner, fold omelet in half or roll. Invert onto plate with a quick flip of the wrist or slide from pan onto plate. Top with an additional 2 tablespoons of the crab mixture. Repeat with remaining omelets.

*It is better to fill omelet when it is slightly underdone. Heat retained in eggs completes the cooking.

Farve announces candidacy

Harry J. Farve has announced his candidacy for district four supervisor.

A lifelong resident of Bay St. Louis, he is the son of Peter and Elvira Farve. He is a member of St. Rose de Lima Parish and attended St. Rose de Lima High School. He is also a member of the NAACP and the Knights of Peter Clavier.

"I am a very community minded individual with strong ties to the city and my district," Farve said.

For eight years he served as City Councilman for District Three and was twice voted to serve as council president.

"During my first term as City Councilman I was instrumental in acquiring the 'Block Grant' monies used to provide sewerage and water to over 95% of District Three, and in my second term 75% of the city had new gas lines installed. I saw to it my district got its fair share," he said.

Under the small cities program several houses were targeted for renovation. In Farve's district alone over 90 homes were renovated.

For 17 years he worked for St. Augustine Seminary as an office manager. He has been employed with Alcan. Cable of Bay St. Louis for the past nine years.

Through Alcan. Farve has completed courses in SPCQ Statistical Process Quality Control, qualifying him as an analyst in productivity and quality control. He has had facilitator/leader and quality control training.

He is married to Catherine

Lizana Farve of Bay St. Louis. They have one child, Paul.

"I feel that with my past experiences and proven record of working for the people, I can be an excellent supervisor for District Four. I would like your vote and support to help me win this election," he said.

USM criminal justice professor featured on 'Donahue Show'

A University of Southern Mississippi expert on campus crime will appear on a television encore broadcast of the 'Donahue Show' this month.

Dr. Michael Clay Smith, USM counsel and an assistant professor of criminal justice, was hosted by Phil Donahue on the national television talk show during a January broadcast examining crime on the nation's college campuses.

Smith's book, 'Coping with Crime on Campus' had just been released at the time by McGraw-Hill Publishing Co., Inc. in New York, which called it "the first book documenting campus crime and offering possible solutions."

WDAM-TV, Channel 7, in Hattiesburg has scheduled the show for 8:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 16, and WLTX-TV, Channel 13, in Biloxi will air the rebroadcast at 9 a.m. Friday, Sept. 16.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

With my two eldest grandsons off at college in South Carolina, sharing an apartment with two or three other students (I'm never sure of the exact number, as it varies from time to time) I was especially interested in the latest cookbook to come across my desk—"The College Cookbook" by Gerri Harrington.

Published by Storey Publishing, Pownall, Vt. in softcover, at $7.95 this little book is an alternative to the college meal plan, as the author calls it, with 200 original quick and cheap recipes geared to the college student short of time and money, and, often, cooking facilities, but not creativity.

And you may be sure, that with my next four grandsons heading toward college before too long, I'm storing away ideas and recipes from this book. College cooks and would-be-cooks from 55 colleges and universities across the United States contributed recipes.

So, the book, of course, is slanted towards today's college students, who really don't fit the stereotype of the fast food junkie existing on French fries and burgers picked up on the run between classes and dates. The recipes for the most part are easily adapted for use by cooks in dorm rooms with only a hot plate or electric fry pan or toaster oven or small microwave of improvised cooking facilities, to those living off campus in apartments with kitchens.

Today's students, as the author observes, seem to be developing a definite 'student cuisine' often more mindful of health than their elders! The trend is to more healthful cooking ways, on budgets hard hit by rising tuition costs and cuts in student aid and show the ingenuity of youth in 'making do' with whatever's on hand.

And, in the words of the student cooks, "almost any recipe is a jumping-off place for a dozen variations and substitutions." Witness the names of some of the recipes—'Potato Anything Soup,' and 'Whatever You Have in the Fridge Quiche' for example.

There's a chapter devoted to soup—cheap, filling and easy to make, and one on hamburger variations, along with one on spaghetti and rice dishes as well as beans and eggs and fish and vegetables. There's a chapter, for example, on food for friends, and a whimsical one on 'Things to Eat When You Have to Stay Up All Night Studying.'

And, of course, sweets are not forgotten, for, as the author remarks, "Dessert is something we are never too full to eat." And, from Boston University, she gives us just about the easiest recipe ever for apple crisp, a special favorite at this time of the year. Here's:

APPLE CRISP

9 McIntosh apples, peeled and sliced (can substitute any type)

1 Tblsp. cinnamon
1/2 stick butter, slightly softened

1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup sugar

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Slice the apples into a casserole or pan, sprinkling each layer generously with cinnamon. In a bowl, cream together with a spoon the butter, flour and sugar. Spoon evenly over apples. Bake for about 40 minutes. Serve warm with whipped cream. (Four to six servings). This turned out delicious in my toaster oven, and I wonder how it will do in an electric skillet!

P.S. You may, of course use margarine instead of butter, and whipped topping in place of whipped cream.

Anderson declares candidacy for District 3 supervisor

Lloyd W. Anderson of Crane Creek community announces his candidacy for District Three Supervisor in Hancock County.

A lifelong resident of Hancock County, Anderson attended Hancock North Central Schools and is a self-employed contractor.

He was elected Justice Court Judge in 1975 and at age 24 was the youngest person to serve in that capacity in the state. He served as judge from 1975-1982. In 1978 the Justice Court Judges Association named him one of the Most Outstanding Judges in Mississippi.

His wife, the former Meredith Smith, also served as District 3 Justice Court Judge. They have four children, Olen, 19, a student at the University of Mississippi; Davy, 16, Vicky, 15, and Dusty, 12, all students at Hancock North Central schools.

"I feel that with my experience in office, I am well-qualified to serve the people in District 3. The people who know me can surely say that I love to work with other officials in this county, and am the kind of person who will listen to the problems facing us today," he said.

Some of the issues that concern Anderson are: salaries of county law enforcement officers; jobs for a growing population and the seawall tax issue.

"Our deputies are paid approximately 1/2 less than neighboring counties. These are people who place their lives on the line for us...we need to upgrade their salaries to keep pace with comparable jobs in other places, to keep good people and high morale."

"With the drug and crime problems we face, I cannot over-emphasize that we need the best law enforcement possible."

"We must also look at creating more jobs in Hancock County to accommodate the growing population," he added.

Anderson also noted that a seawall tax is collected on every gallon of gasoline purchased in Hancock County. "Why isn't this tax used to maintain the seawall?" he questioned. "A drive down the beach road will show the erosion that is taking place. We need to address this problem."

IN BRIEF

"Diet, Nutrition and Cancer" is an entertaining and informative half-hour video, now available for home viewing, which explains the relationship between our daily diets and cancer risk. Scientists now estimate that 40 to 60 percent of all cancers may be related to our diets, and that as many as one-third of cancer deaths could be prevented through simple dietary changes.

This video also provides basic information on the Dietary Guidelines to Lower Cancer Risk, recommended by the institute, and includes tips on how to make easy-to-accomplish nutritional changes for lower cancer risk.

Copies of the video are now available directly from the institute. The cost is $10, which includes postage and handling.

Florence steals practice time, Bay coach expects tough game

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay High Tigers will go into their toughest game of the season against Pearl River Central Friday with both teams still battered from their Monday night games.

Bay High defeated the Pass Christian Pirates 17-7 Monday in a game that had been rescheduled from last week due to Hurricane Florence. The victory put Bay High at 1-1 in district and conference standings.

Tiger Head Coach Bob Lumpkin said he expects a tough game despite the fact that Pearl River is 0-2.

kids are still battered from Monday. Pearl River Central is in the same situation, so I guess that all evens it out."

"It's difficult to get ready for a game in three days."

While the practice scheduling situation is even, Lumpkin does not expect much else to be even Friday.

"I look for a real, real tough ballgame. We're going to have to play our best game of the year to beat them," he explained, stating that Pearl River Central has larger players on both their defensive and offensive lines than Bay High and a "good, solid defense."

center injured in the Pass Christian game.

Other prospective starters include Doral Nichols and Brian Favre at guard, Billy Cuevas and Heath Hopgood at tackle, Tim Allen at tight end, Thomas Brink or Willie Moody at split end, Travis Haynes and Darrin Washington at running back, Doug Rhodes at flanker and Charlie Mitchell at quarterback.

In Monday's game, Buddy Bourn opened the scoring during the first quarter with an end-zone recovery of a Pass Christian punt blocked by Washington. Joel Duncan's PAT kick was good and Bay High led 7-0.

The Pirates' Tracy Watts tied the score at 7-7 with a 10-yard touchdown pass to LaShaun Ausmer, but the Tigers pulled ahead again when Washington scored on a 95-yard kickoff return. Duncan added a kick to give the Tigers a 14-7 lead.

Duncan put the boot to a 41-yard field goal in the fourth quarter for a final score of 17-7.

Pass Christian will travel to St. Martin this week.

Both games begin at 7:30 p.m. Lumpkin said he hopes to find a good crowd at Carriere Friday to boost the Tigers as they face Pearl River Central.

"They're 0-2 but they've lost to Poplarville, which is a big power in the state, and to Hancock North Central, which will be hard for anybody to beat this year," Lumpkin said.

The rescheduling put both teams three to four days behind in their preparations.

"We have to try to double up and catch up, but we can't do much contact work because our

"Our kids have been playing real hard, but we don't have any big game breakers. Everybody seems to be evenly matched," Lumpkin said.

The Tigers will have to sharpen their pass defense for Friday as they meet two of Pearl River's game-breakers.

"Quarterback Adam Jones is outstanding and throws real well. Split end Mark Montgomery is their big game-breaker. He's probably the best receiver in the district," Lumpkin stated.

Bay High will go into the game with essentially the same line-up as previous games with the exception of Donny Carter at center, who is replacing the

Rock-A-Chaws crush St. John

Even though this is the height of the hurricane season, the St. John Eagles weren't quite prepared for the storm that hit them Monday night when St. Stanislaus whalloped the Eagles 55-13 at Milner Stadium in Gulfport.

The Rocks were impressive as they rolled up 515 yards in total offense and scored eight touchdowns. In addition to the scoring, the Rocks had two other touchdowns called back due to penalties, and squandered two other opportunities when they fumbled into the endzone from the St. John one-yard line and had time expire in the first half with the Rocks ready to score from the St. John four-yard line.

This means that the Rock-A-Chaw scoring machine could have tallied 12 touchdowns, even with B-Team playing half the contest.

Gino Ascani led the Rock-A-Chaws with three touchdowns, scoring from the 16, the 50, and the two-yard line. Also involved in the scoring attack were Shannon Garrett who scored on a 30-yard and a 37-yard punt return. Fullback Vincent Bradley, Jim Brue and Tory Lowe also had touchdowns for St. Stanislaus.

SSC scored twice in the first and second quarters to enjoy a comfortable 27-7 halftime advantage. With only three minutes gone in the third quarter, SSC had scored three more touchdowns and led 55-7.

"Overall the coaches were very pleased with the team effort. The B-Team got to see a lot of action, and the special teams played well. We were mentally ready to play tonight, and I was happy everyone got some playing time," said Coach Ken Lyons.

Meriting special praise from Coach Lyons was special teams coach Andy Kivlan, whose punt return team took two St. John punts and returned them for touchdowns, and the kickoff team who consistently kept the Eagles from returning the ball past their 25-yard line.

"I thought we came off the ball a lot better this game," said Coach Kivlan. "We seemed to gain a lot of confidence early in the game after our first few scores. I was happy with the way our kickoff return wedge performed."

Defensive coordinator Larry Ramsey singled out the play of his linebackers, especially David Alexander, Mark Carter, Jeff Taylor and Scott

Hancock battles arch-rival Poplarville Friday night

BY D.C. HARVILL

The Hancock North Central Hawks plowed over the Pearl River Central Blue Devils Monday night taking their record to 2-0 for the season.

The Hawks scored 28-points to the Devils' 14 in the game rescheduled from Friday because of Hurricane Florence.

The Hawks put themselves on the board in the first quarter with a 5-yard TD dash by freshman tailback Terrance Goff.

The Devils responded in the second quarter with two TDs and good extra point attempts, taking the score at the end of the first to 14 to 6, Devils.

"We played a sloppy first half," Hawks Head Coach Irving Favre said, "but we were able to come back in the second half."

The Hawks took command of the second half when Goff returned the kickoff 90 yards for a TD. Jeff Moran completed a passed Ronald "Doodle" Doyle for a two-point conversion taking the score to 14-14.

Goff ran two-yards for another TD in the third and one in the fourth to complete.

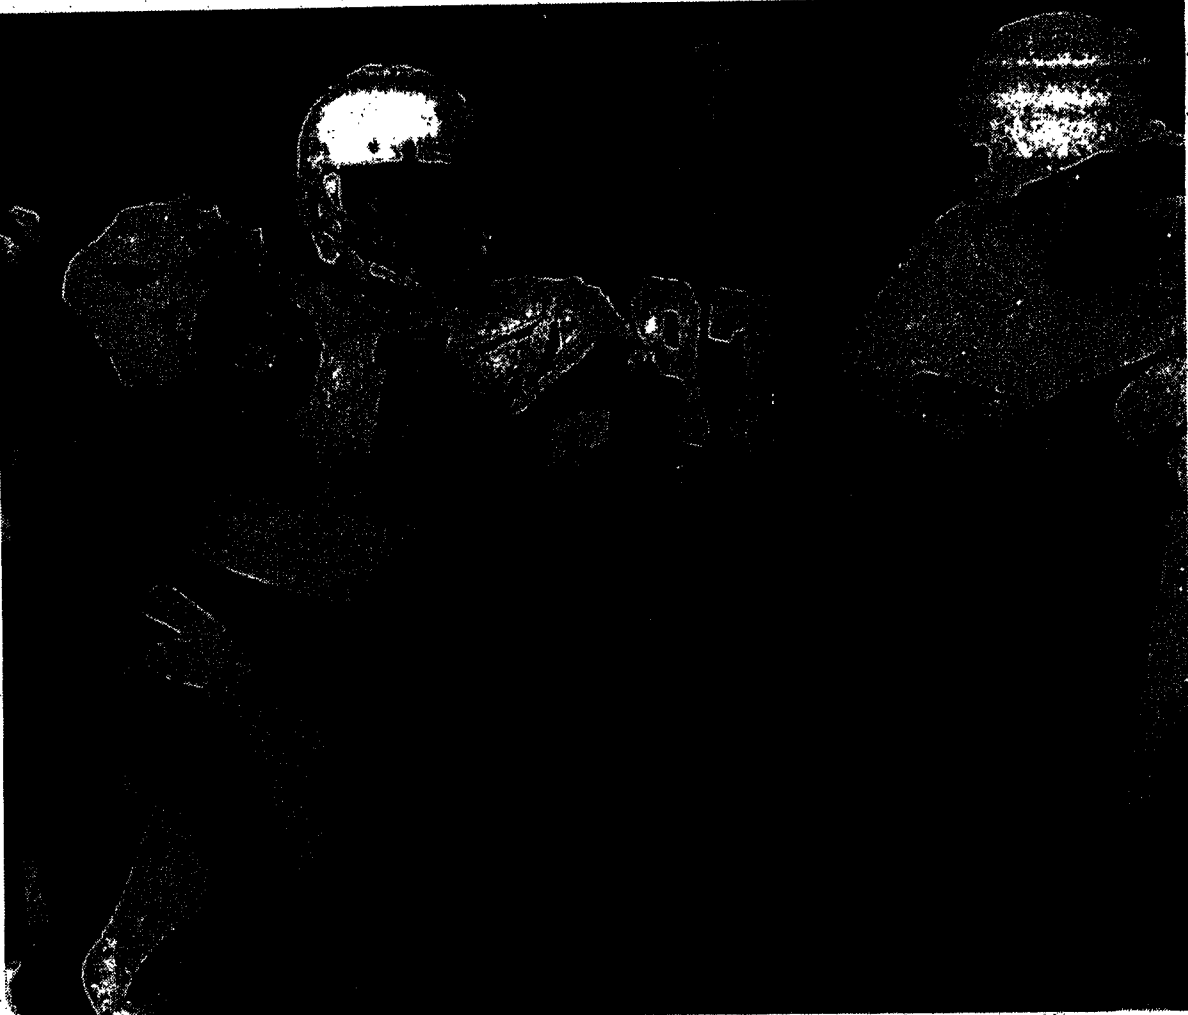

The Hawks travel Friday to the home turf of staunch rivals, the Poplarville Hornets.

The Hawks' offensive lineup for Friday's game includes #88 Rickey Boyette at split end, #89 Keith Sellier at tight end, #79 Rene Chaisson at right tackle and #67 Joe Vitter at left tackle, #78 Marty Smith and #65 Keith Meranto at guard, #55 Dan Hunter at center, #14 Jeff Moran at quarterback, #23 Terrance Goff and #21 Tyrus Jackson at half back and #37 Ronald "Doodle" Doyle at full back.

The starting defensive lineup includes #65 Keith Meranto and #80 Sean Benefield at defensive end, #89 Keith Sellier and #78 Marty Smith at tackle,

Pass Pirates stalk St. Martin Friday

BY D.C. HARVILL

The Pass High Pirates go hunting for a win against the St. Martin Yellowjackets Friday night after a 17-7 loss to the Bay High Tigers Monday.

"Our boys played well; we just made some mental errors. We had a breakdown on coverage. The Bay has a big, strong team and Coach (Bob) Lumpkin had them well prepared," Pirates' Head Coach Joseph Brown said.

Despite Monday's loss the Pirates are going into this week's game with a positive attitude.

"We're trying to get that mental edge back. We're out there to play football," Brown said.

The Pirates' starting offensive lineup against St. Martin will be #10 Sammy Taylor at quarterback, #23 Eric Dawkins and #19 Shawn Ausmer at running back, #22 Lashaun Ausmer at flanker, #82 Jarred McCollister at split end, #75 Thad Williams and #58 Patrick Bonney at tackle, #51 Tim Morrell and #67 Shawn Dedeaux at guard, #63 Anthony Peranich at center, #80 Jimmy Ladner at tight end.

Starting on defense will be #74 Terrance Lawton at defensive end, #63 Anthony Peranich at end, #67 Shawn Dedeaux and #51 Tim Morrell at tackle, #80 Jimmy Ladner, #40 Willie Washington and #62 Donald Knight at linebacker, #12 Chris Lang at strong safety, #15 Jarred Page at safety, #33 Charley Lizana and #3 Renaldo Delvallade at corner back.

The coach noted the Yellowjackets' passing game, with quarterback Ernest Moody, as their strongest point. He also said he thinks Billy Brown at defense will present an obstacle.

He said if the Yellowjackets have a weakness it is their pass defense.

"All of our players are key

"I feel that our linemen, particularly Craig Sweeney, Tracy Koller and Galen Smith had good ballgames," said Coach Ramsey.

St. Stanislaus rolled up 19 first-downs, and for the second game in a row the Rock-A-Chaws did not have to punt. The Rocks have scored 75 points in two ballgames which gives them the lead in the District 4A scoring race.

Other District 4A leaders include QB Cedric Smith with three touchdown passes, and Scott Heitzmann with two touchdown receptions. Tied for second in individual scoring are Shannon Gerrett and Gino Ascani with 18 points, followed by Scott Heitzmann with 16 points.

GAME SUMMARY

It didn't take SSC long to take control of the game, as St. John took the opening kickoff and three plays later running back Neil Modenback's fumble was recovered at the SJ nine-yard line by David Alexander. SSC fullback Vincent Bradley scored three plays later off left guard, and Heitzmann's extra point gave the Rocks a 7-0 lead.

St. John could not establish a running game due to good defensive penetration by Mark Carter, Craig Sweeney and Scott Necaise. After QB Buddy Palazzo hit flanker Chris Ryle for a first down at the SJ 38, running back Brian Oberlies fumbled two plays later and SSC's Gary Fontbelle recovered at the SSC 46-yard line. Cedric Smith hit Ascani on a screen pass for a 40-yard gain, then connected with Heitzmann on an 11-yard pickup to the St. John three-yard line. Ascani drove hard over right tackle, but fumbled on the one-yard line and St. John's Mariano Barvie recovered in the endzone for a touchdown, bringing the ball out to the 20-yard line.

Palazzo's pass was intercepted by Paul Johnson at the St. John 44-yard line and the Rocks had the ball back. Smith completed a pass to Heitzmann at the 28-yard line, and several plays later Ascani raced for a first down to the SJ 16-yard line.

On the next play, Ascani swept the right side for a 16-yard scoring run, slicing through St. John tacklers. The extra point was no good, and SSC led 13-0 with 31 in the first quarter.

St. John took the ensuing kickoff but hobbled the ball on their 23-yard line. Three unsuccessful pass plays later, St. John had to punt to the Rocks' 49-yard line.

Bradley raced 26 yards on first down before being tackled on the St. John 25-yard line. It took the Rocks four more plays to hit paydirt when Ascani blasted over from the two-yard line. Heitzmann's extra point gave the Rocks a 20-0 advantage.

St. John took the kickoff but a hard hit by Johnny Labruzzo forced Oberlies to fumble at the 23-yard line. St. John recovered the ball, but Palazzo's pass on second down was intercepted by Sean Sewell at the St. John 39-yard line.

SSC running back Tory Lowe came in and ran hard for the Rock-A-Chaws. On three consecutive carries, Lowe chewed up yardage and scored on a 24-yard run with 6:57 left in the half. Duncan Matheson's extra point was good, and the Rocks built a 27-0 lead.

St. John made its only penetration into Rock-A-Chaw territory on their next drive. Several key passes from Palazzo to flanker Chris Ryle kept the drive alive, and Palazzo scored on a one-yard run with 2:46 left in the half to cut the Rock-A-Chaw led to 27-7.

Shannon Garrett made a nice kickoff return to the SSC 43-yard line. Ken Booker came in to quarterback the Rock-A-Chaws, and did a fine job leading the offense. Solid running by Booker, Adam Ostrowe and David Alexander mounted a 53-yard drive in the next two minutes. The Rocks were knocking on St. John's goal line once again as they penetrated to the four-yard line as time expired in the first half with the Rocks holding a commanding 27-7 lead.

SSC exploded for three scores in the third quarter, as Gino Ascani raced 50 yards through the St. John defense on the Rocks' first possession of the second half. Matheson's extra point increased the score to 34-7.

When St. John could not move the ball on offense, SSC took over at the St. John 48-yard line four plays later. Shannon Garrett's hard running on an inside reverse accounted for the next Rock-A-Chaw score as he raced 30 yards through the middle of the line. With three minutes gone in the third quarter, SSC led 41-7 as Robert O'Brien's extra point kick was good.

St. John's Brad Alick returned the kickoff to the SJ 27-yard line, but penalties and sacks brought the ball back to the St. John three-yard line. Garrett returned Oberlies punt back for another SSC score, but the play was called back due to a clip. The Rocks drove down to the St. John 12-yard line, but an SSC fumble was recovered by Modenback on the St. John 12-yard line.

When St. John couldn't move the football and had to punt once gain, Shannon Garrett fielded the ball on the 37 and again scored on the return, this time with no penalties. O'Brien's extra point was good, and the Rocks had total control of the contest 48-7.

All members of the Rock-A-Chaw squad had an opportunity to play. Cornerback Vince Altese intercepted a Palazzo pass at the 41-yard line and returned it into the endzone for another Rock-A-Chaw touchdown, only to have it called back due to an illegal block.

Running back James Brue was the workhorse on this drive, and with 9:47 left in the game Brue scored on a five-yard blast up the middle. Andrew Lazarra's extra point was good and the Rocks upped the margin to 55-7.

St. John scored their second touchdown of the game on a 20-yard run by Steve Oberlies who also attempted the extra point. Both teams battled near mid-field for the remainder of the contest.

Rocks to host Warren Easton

This Friday, weather permitting, the Rocks host the Warren Easton Eagles. This will be a big test for the Rock-A-Chaws. Warren Easton lost their first game of the season 26-14 to Louisiana powerhouse East St. John. Their second game with Harrison Central was postponed and not rescheduled. "Warren Easton is big, and run a powerful Wing-T offense. They seem to throw the ball a lot, and use plenty of misdirection. I understand their best athlete is their quarterback who makes their offense go," says Coach Lyons.

"We'll probably have some new looks on defense to contain their outside running game," added Coach Kivian.

Kickoff for the SSC-Warren Easton game is 7:30 p.m. at Rock-A-Chaw Stadium.

Soccer skills day slated for 'Under-8' players

Bay Area Youth Soccer will hold a skills day this Saturday at 10 a.m. for all Under-8 players. Due to changes in MYSA state regulations, the Under-8 program will no longer be grouped by schools, region, area, etc.

The program is now required to have an open draft like all other age groups. In order to strengthen our Under-8 program, BAYS will have a skills day for all those players Sept. 17 at the Coleman Avenue Soccer Field in Waveland. The program is required for all Under-8 players.

Players will be instructed in basic skills and evaluated. A second evaluation will be made at the end of the soccer year to make certain skill levels are progressing. Teams will not be selected until after this basic skill training on skills day.

The session is expected to take approximately one and one-half hours. Each youth should wear comfortable tennis shoes or soccer shoes and shinguards. Shinguards are mandatory for both BAYS and MYSA soccer activities.

Teams will be drafted Saturday afternoon. Once teams are drafted no new teams will be formed in the spring season.

Many of the age groups are filled with no current vacancies, however, there are some openings in the younger age groups such as Under-6 through Under-10 and in some girls age groups.

Applications after Saturday's draft and in closed age groups will be put on a waiting list and will not be filled until vacancies occur on teams. Late applications will not be guaranteed a team position. Fall season games will begin in October and end in November. The spring season will begin in January and end in March.

players." Brown said, but singled out the Pirates' defense as its strongest asset.

He sees his team's offensive line as its weakest link, but only because they are weak and inexperienced.

"We have a lot of young players and we are going to give them a chance to play," he said.

Anticipating a totally different style of play, the coach said last week's loss should have no effect on this week's game. He intends to use a balanced attack with a 50 defense.

"If our guys can come out prepared mentally we can compete. By using a balanced attack and maintaining the right attitude we'll do all right," Brown said.

This week's game will be 7:30 p.m. Friday at St. Martin.

with two games in one week. We were battered pretty bad in Monday's game. Our big strong point is to come out healthy. Right now we're not real healthy and that concerns me," Favre said.

The coach said he doesn't intend to change his strategy for this week's game.

We're going to have to move the ball on the ground and in the air. We've got to open those holes. We'll need four quarters Friday like the second half of Monday's game if we are going to win this one," he said.

Both teams are 2-0 for the season. Poplarville beat Lumberton last week 50-12.

The game begins at 7:30 p.m. at Poplarville.

ASCS offers drought relief

Newly-enacted farm legislation authorizes USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) to compensate eligible producers in disaster-affected counties for losses of 198 crops caused by drought, hail, excessive moisture, or related conditions.

"The new drought relief bill authorizes payments to eligible farmers on part of their 1988 crops losses," Franklin A. Gennin, county executive director of the Pearl River-Hancock County ASCS office said. Producers who lost more than 35 percent of a crop will be eligible for disaster payments.

The disaster aid recipients may be required to purchase federal crop insurance next year to help reduce government relief costs in the event of another weather disaster.

Gennin said the new drought legislation also authorizes assistance to farmers in eligible counties for restoring some damaged pasture land and replacing tree seedlings.

The drought, accompanied by abnormally high temperatures, has reduced this year's harvest of wheat, soybeans, feed grains, and other crops. It is the most severe drought on record at this stage of the growing season. While July rains helped to ease the dry conditions in some areas, conditions worsened in other areas where crops are now in the critical growth stage.

Gennin said drought relief payments will be made on all crops for which crop insurance through the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation was available for the 1988 crop year and other commercial crops for which such insurance was not available.

Eligible producers who apply must furnish ASCS with acreage and crop production reports.

Dove season marks tradition of good hunting and eating

By Eva Ann Dorris
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

It's an annual southern tradition. Dedicated hunters began their Labor Day weekend with a trip to the dove fields, and fresh game tops the menu for the Saturday night meal.

According to statistics from the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation, hunters harvested more than 3 million morning doves during the 1987 seasons.

For Mississippi hunters, the 1988 dove season opened 30 minutes before sunrise on Sept. 3, the first of three seasons will close Sept. 18.

Hunters need a valid state hunting license and a shotgun that will hold no more than three shells. There is a daily bag limit of 15 birds.

The person in charge of the Saturday night feast will need, depending on the method of cooking, various spices and food staples.

Nelda Starks, nutrition education specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, said doves are a versatile meat for cooking.

"Before cooking, though, the birds should be thoroughly cleaned and soaked in a solution of salty water 15 to 20 minutes," Starks said. "If the birds are shot up pretty bad, add about 1 tablespoon of vinegar per quart of water when soaking."

"After soaking, wash in cold water and dry well. If you don't plan to cook the game immediately, wrap in foil and freeze. But plan to cook the meat within three months," she said.

Doves can be fried, roasted, baked, barbecued, braised or baked in foil with vegetables, just to name a few of the most popular methods of preparation.

Starks said to fry doves for six to eight people, the preparer will need 14 to 16 doves, salt and pepper, flour salad oil and vinegar or sherry.

"Salt, pepper and flour doves. Brown them in oil in a heavy skillet until crisp on both sides. Sprinkle about 1 tablespoon of vinegar or sherry over each bird and cover the skillet," she said. "Reduce heat and simmer until tender. Remove cover and cook a few more minutes. Take birds out of skillet and drain well. Brown gravy can then be made from the oil."

Hunting Day celebrated Sept. 24

National hunting and Fishing Day will be celebrated in Mississippi this upcoming Saturday, Sept. 24. This national celebration is held annually across America to honor hunters and fishermen for their contributions in conserving fish and wildlife resources.

In Jackson the Department of Wildlife Conservation will sponsor special events from 9:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. on that day. Special exhibits will be presented by the department's hunter education and boat and water safety division, and the Bureau of Marine Resources.

Free conservation films will be shown in the Museum's learning center at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. At 3 p.m. executive director Vernon Bevil will present a turkey calling demonstration.

The Mississippi Hunter Safety Instructor's Association will sponsor a special drawing for a Thompson Center 50 caliber muzzle-loading rifle. The drawing will be at 3:30 p.m. Hunting and fishing licenses will be for sale all day.

Baked doves is a simple but tasty method of preparation, too. For "Dove Delicious" split birds down the back. Boil them for 15 minutes, then place a slice of butter and half of a 1/4-inch slice of onion inside each dove. Salt and pepper to taste. Wrap each dove in foil and cook for 30 to 45 minutes at 400 degrees F. Serve in foil.

This recipe can be taken a step further by placing the unwrapped doves in a saucepan with gravy and let simmer until gravy is thick enough to serve.

More information on preparing Mississippi game is available from local extension-home economists.

ON ETV

QUAIL PRODUCTION

ETV's Farmweek examines efforts to make quail production a profitable venture when the weekly agricultural news program airs at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 19.

Farmweek reporters will visit one of the state's quail farms and talk with Extension Poultry Specialist Tom Smith.

Also on this program, the effects of the drought on net farm incomes for 1988 will be explored. Just what will the dry weather mean to farmers' profits in the state?

"Farmweek" is a production of Mississippi ETV and the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, providing up-to-the-hour market analyses, price information, agricultural news and weather reports.

USM to host Virginia Tech

The University of Southern Mississippi plays its third game of the still young season Saturday, Sept. 17, hosting the Virginia Tech Hokies in a 7 p.m. game in Roberts Stadium.

It will mark the second home game of the '88 season for the Golden Eagles who opened with a 21-7 victory over Stephen F. Austin Sept. 3.

USM and Virginia Tech have played four times previously with each team winning twice. The most recent meeting between the two schools was a 1976 game, won by Tech 16-7. The game will mark the second trip to Hattiesburg for Tech. The Hokies played in Hattiesburg in 1958, USM winning 41-0.

The Hokies are coached by second-year head coach Frank Beamer and his 1988 squad shows 39 returning lettermen and 11 starters from last year's 2-9 squad. Returning offensive starters include split end Karl Borden, tackle Todd Grantham, tailback Jon Jefferies, flanker Myron Richardson and guard Glenn Watts.

Defensive starters returning include defensive backs Roger Brown and John Grandy, linebackers Randy Cockrell and Bobby Martin and end Jimmy Whitten.

USM will counter with the quarterbacking duo of Brett Favre and Ailrick Young, the running back tandem of Shelton Gandy and Ricky Bradley, and strong defensive play from such standouts as Toby Watts and Steve Rankin.

James Henry continues to provide excitement, this year as both a starting defensive back and kick returner. He set NCAA records last season with four punt returns in a three-game stretch, and in the opening game had a pass interception (the third of his career) that he returned 56 yards to blunt a Stephen F. Austin scoring threat.

Tickets to the Virginia Tech game remain on sale through the athletic ticket office located in Green Coliseum on the USM campus. In fact, season tickets remain on sale. The remaining three home games, with Virginia Tech, Louisville and Memphis State, have been packaged into a three-game season ticket, priced at $30 for adults and $18 for students.

Following the Virginia Tech game, the Eagles will play at East Carolina Sept. 24 before returning home to host Louisville the following week.

ON ETV

It's back-to-school time on Mississippi ETV. Beginning this week, ETV's summer daytime entertainment schedule makes way for in-school instructional programming.

New lessons in career, consumer and economic education; health, safety and physical education; foreign language; literature; mathematics and science have been added to this year's schedule.

Career, Consumer and Economic Education: "It's Your Future" is a 20-minute program offering general information about the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB), a multiple-aptitude test used in career guidance and counseling, suitable either for teacher in-service or for high school students.

The series "Understanding Taxes" has been updated and includes lesson concepts from the "Tax Whys" and "Understanding Taxes" series. The updated series is designed to dramatize and clarify tax issues in ways that are meaningful to high school students.

Health, Safety and Physical Education: "Citizen Seatbelt" is an award-winning 15-minute lesson that instructs young children, kindergarten through third grade, about seatbelt safety and about the benefits of always wearing safety belts.

Foreign Language: "French in Action" combines video and audio methods to teach French to high school students in the context of the French-speaking culture—not as a translation of English—using an innovative approach developed by Pierre Capretz of Yale University.

Literature: "The Gentle Giant" presents traditional folktales and stories for children in kindergarten through second grade. The Gentle Giant, Paul Lilly, welcomes guests to his castle for story telling.

Mathematics: "Vectors" is a new mini-series in the larger "Concepts in Mathematics" series. High school students are shown that vectors have both magnitude and direction and can represent quantities.

For All Practical Purposes

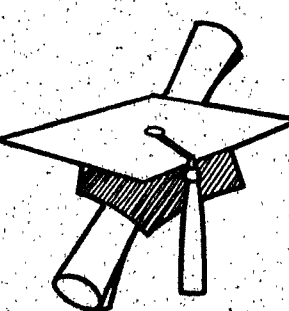

is an introduction to contemporary mathematics for high school students. The areas covered are statistics; management science; social choice; computers; and size, shape and growth.

Science: "Take a Look" teaches principles of science to students in grades one through three. The two characters in the series explore plant and animal life, basic astronomy, geology and meteorology.

"Electromagnetism," "Photosynthesis" and "Organic Chemistry" are new mini-series that have been added to the "Concepts in Science" series for high school students. As the titles suggest, the programs cover scientific principles pertaining to these three areas.

Mississippi ETV will broadcast 109 instructional television series during the 1988-89 school year. According to a recent survey conducted by Mississippi ETV, 95.8 percent of schools responding to the survey reported that they use ETV in the classroom.

How to stock your tacklebox

One of the most difficult tasks every bass angler eventually faces is re-filling his tacklebox from the dozens of lures, hooks, sharpeners and other gadgets he gradually accumulates in the sport.

Contrary to what many fishermen do, the solution is not to simply purchase a larger tacklebox, but rather, to carefully select certain lures that perform in specific ways.

"After all," smiles Evinrude Outboards Pro Staff member Larry Nixon, who has faced this very problem many times, "what matters is not how many items you cram into a tacklebox, but what you put into it."

"The key to successfully stocking a tacklebox is filling it with lures that cover a variety of water depths. This provides you with versatility, although it may also mean you have to fish with lures you don't necessarily like to use."

"One of the difficulties we all have is the desire to catch bass the way we want to, which is not necessarily always the best or most efficient way to do it."

Because he strives for depth versatility, Nixon puts a lot of crankbaits in his tacklebox, choosing those that cover depths between four and about 12 feet. Virtually all are shad color, but the lures have different wobbling actions.

"Some crankbaits have a subtle side to side wobble," explains the 1983 Bass Masters Classic winner and all-time top Bass money winner, "while others have a much more pronounced action. Even though both lures might dive to the same depth, I have seen many times when bass would only hit one lure because of its action."

Nixon recommends stocking several very shallow-running crankbaits because they're so effective when fishing around shallow vegetation. He reels the lure down to the very top of the grass and bounces it over the greenery.

Nixon also recommends anglers stock several spinnerbaits in their tackleboxes, concentrating on different lure sizes and blade designs. Although spinnerbaits are among the most versatile of all bass lures, some are better suited to certain conditions than others.

"My spinnerbait choice includes a 1/2-ounce model with a size 5 willow leaf and size 3 Colorado blade, a combination I like to use around vegetation because it comes through the grass very well."

"I also make certain I have a 3/4-ounce spinnerbait with a single size 8 Colorado blade in my box. This is an excellent big bass lure because the blade produces a lot of flash and vibration, and it's a fine lure to use if you have to fish muddy water."

Another versatile lure the Evinrude Motors pro recommends bass anglers have is a jig. Nixon can credit several of his tournament wins to jigs, and he stocks them in 3/16, 5/16 and 1/2 ounce sizes. His favorite skirt color combinations are black/blue, brown/orange and brown/black. With the jigs he has a supply of black and brown pork and plastic trailers.

Nixon strongly recommends anglers make certain they have a good selection of topwater lures in their tackleboxes. His own choices include two-inch poppers that he likes to fish rapidly over the surface; several propeller baits for when bass want a slower-moving lure; and several large poppers for clear water lakes where he might catch a big bass.

"Another lure I really think bass fishermen underestimate and don't use enough is a minnow-imitation floater/diver," says Nixon. "I always have several in my tacklebox, especially in chrome and perch colors. They're excellent spring lures, but they're actually year-round lures in much of the country."

"I fish these lures around grass or stumps, casting them around the targets and letting them sit motionless for a few moments, then twitching them just enough to make them look alive. I'm really surprised more anglers don't use them."

Still another lure Nixon loves to use but doesn't see many others using is a 1/8-ounce marabou jig, which over the years has earned him more than $50,000.

"These little jigs will catch fish when nothing else does," says Nixon. "Of course, you have to use them with extremely light tackle, but you can still catch some big bass with them. I like to fish them in clear water around pier pilings or the edges of brush piles, jiggling and hopping them around the cover."

Nixon also recommends anglers save some room in their boxes for plastic worms and the hooks and sinkers used in rigging them. He himself uses a variety of worm sizes and sinker weights, but thinks a six-inch worm with a 3/16-ounce slip-sinker is a good basic combination.

"With plastic worms," says the Texas-based pro, "confidence in the lure is probably as important as the lure itself. I'd recommend anglers fish several styles and types of plastic worms, then pick one they feel most confident in using. With sinkers, it's important to use the lightest weight possible, adding weight when you want the lure to fall faster or need the weight for casting."

Over the years as a guide on Toledo Bend and as a tournament pro, Nixon says he has accumulated enough tackle to stock a store. He re-packs tackleboxes often, filling them with lures for specific lakes and water conditions. The overall goal, however, is always to remain as versatile as possible.

Waveland man in tenth place in Bass Association tournament

Tommy Newell of Ocean Springs has won the fifth Little Dixie Bass Association qualifying tournament. The tournament, held on the Pascagoula River near Vancleave, was attended by 20 of the top anglers in Mississippi and Alabama and produced low catch weights but high spirits.

Defending Pascagoula River champion Newell took first place with a string of 5 bass weighing in at 6 pounds. "Big Ray" Swilley of Laurel came in second place with two bass weighing 3 pounds, 4 ounces. His catch was enough to move him up into Little Dixie's Top Ten.

For the first time in Little Dixie Bass Association's history, third, fourth and fifth places all had ties. Third place money was shared by Craig Massey of Mobile and Gary Brown of Gautier who each caught 2 pounds, 12 ounces. Brown caught theunker of the group.

Chris Pitts of Mobile tied Charles Noble of Laurel for fourth place with 2 pounds, 4 ounces. In fifth place were B. E. Green of Magee, in his first year on the Little Dixie circuit, and seasoned pro and lure maker Emory Burch of Hattiesburg with 1 pound, 4 ounces.

With one tournament left in the circuit, Little Dixie Bass Association's standings place Waveland resident Ron Kozac in tenth place with catches totaling seven pounds, 4 ounces.

The last qualifying tournament of Little Dixie's first full year will be held at Lake Lincoln, near Brookhaven on Sept. 17. The 650-acre lake is well stocked with 6-8 pound bass and should provide plenty of good angling for competitors.

Q. Over 700 Mississippi Army National Guardsmen saw action at New Orleans in the War of 1812. The soldiers were commanded by Andrew Jackson in this famous battle. What was unique about this battle?
A. The battle, fought in 1815, was the last battle of the War of 1812 and actually took place after the signing of the Paris Peace Treaty, which "ended" the war.

Bay, Pass noted in "Mississippi Home-Places"

BY JANET MCQUEEN

The state portrayed in Elmo Howell's book "Mississippi Home-Places" is not unlike a patchwork quilt, fashioned of bits and pieces of fabrics of incongruous blends.

From the Delta to the Coast and points north and east, the retired University of Memphis literature professor introduces the reader to the homes and haunts of Mississippi writers and artists. The result of three years of research and travel across the state, the Mississippi native discovered an abundance of local historians in diverse habitats.

Fifty-eight cities are mentioned, with several "home-places" depicted in each. Bay St. Louis is noted as the residence of historian J. H. F. Claiborne, who will be remembered by many one-time high school students as "the Father of Mississippi History."

Claiborne lived on Laurel Hill, sometimes called the Stoufflet Place, facing Mulatto Bayou in extreme southwest Hancock County now a part of Port Bienville Industrial Park. The house was destroyed a few years ago, but Howell quotes one of the last people who saw it. What stands out in his description is the iron-bar complex of cages under the house, set high on pillars, where recalcitrant slaves were first kept when brought in from Africa.

Claiborne's Gothic style has been suggested as an early pattern for that of novelists like William Faulkner. Howell provides a sample from the writer's story about traveling horseback through southeast Mississippi "cow country" in the early nineteenth century and lodging with an isolated farm family.

Claiborne provides a humorous disquisition on that family's creative use of the sweet potato, a staple of the Southern table. Closer to our time, in neighboring Pearl River County, Howell was impressed by the works of S. G. Thigpen Sr. of Picayune. Proprietor of Thigpen Hardware Store by profession and journalist-historian at heart, Thigpen authored six long books after age 70 "putting down with bounce and spice and a wisdom often lacking in a best-seller novel what it was like to live in Pearl River County a hundred years ago", according to Howell.

Thigpen's columns, which featured fascinating accounts of life in rural South Mississippi, were printed in The Sea Coast Echo and The Jackson Daily News until his death in December, 1981. The hardware store is still operated by the Thigpen family and is located on Highway 11 in Picayune.

The cover features an artist's rendition of "The Hermitage", home of Mrs. R. H. Crosby in Picayune and girlhood home of poetess Pearl Rivers (Eliza Jane Poitevent Holbrook Nicholson). Nicholson was a woman pioneer in the journalism field, serving as literary editor at the Picayune in New Orleans, and later as publisher.

Pass Christian is noted as a former residence of advice columnist Dorothy Dix and the site of Beaulieu, President Woodrow Wilson's Dixie White House. Both homes were destroyed by Hurricane Camille.

Poplarville is remembered as the burial place of controversial Senator Theodore Bilbo.

The book is laced with black and white photographs of various points of interest, and is available locally at Bookends Bookstore in Bay St. Louis and The Book Boat in Pass Christian.

Copies are also available directly from the author at 3733 Douglas Avenue, Memphis, Tenn. 38111 at $12.95 postpaid.

Emergency Medical Services Week to be observed at Hancock Medical

There is never a good time to be involved in a medical emergency. In today's busy society, most people give little thought to the consequences of a medical emergency or the emergency medical services provided in such situations.

You don't have to wait until an emergency happens to learn what to do and who to turn to should one occur.

Next week, Hancock Medical Center will provide the opportunity for local citizens to be prepared for emergencies during Emergency Medical Services Week, Sept. 18-24. This week is set aside each year to recognize the emergency medical services provided for Hancock County by emergency medical professionals and encourage people all over the country to learn more about emergency medical services in their communities.

Emergency physicians and nurses at Hancock Medical Center will provide information on what to do in the event of an emergency.

At Hancock Medical Center, a team of medical professionals will offer free blood pressure checks, health checkups and other health-related activities and information. Patients are asked to bring all their medications and physicians' instructions to the hospital during that time for a free medication check. The emergency personnel will provide a list of medications that individuals can keep with them at all times for emergencies. County school children will be visiting the emergency department at HMC on Wednesday, Sept. 20 for "Catching a Kidney" Children and Adults. The program includes a CPR video, a first aid demonstration and a mobile medical clinic.

Patients are invited to an HMC Open House at the hospital on Thursday, Sept. 21. Local county emergency personnel and mobile medical services providers will be on hand. Local health fairs and emergency information will be provided at the hospital during this time.

For additional information on any of these events, contact Hancock Medical Center at 467-9044.

Red Cross to host volunteers meeting

The Hancock County Chapter of American Red Cross will host a special meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Civil Defense conference room at the Hancock County Courthouse.

Shelter workers and those who would like to volunteer as shelter workers are asked to attend. Those who worked during Hurricane Florence will be asked for input to be used in planning for the next hurricane, Red Cross Director Jeanne Garcia said.

Amateur radio operator who would like to volunteer are also asked to attend.

Donations of large coffee pots or coolers are also needed.

For more information, contact Jeanne Garcia at 467-7609.

EDUCATION NOTES

Hancock Elementary PTO to meet tonight

The Hancock North Central Elementary Parent-Teacher Organization will sponsor an Open House in conjunction with their first meeting of the year on Thursday, Sept. 15 at 7 p.m. Election of officers will also be held. Parents are encouraged to meet with their child's teacher and the new assistant principal, Bettye McLeod.

Bay Catholic Elementary expands curriculum, plans special events

The 1988-89 school session for Bay Catholic Elementary in Bay St. Louis opened with the introduction of several new services and classes to its curriculum.

In addition to its Early Childhood program (four-year-olds) Principal Ann Allen announced the beginning of a program for three-year-olds. The program will be known as Early, Early Childhood.

To familiarize these children with the school facility and teachers, the Early Childhood class sponsored a bear hunt. A picture of each faculty member was placed on a brown bear cut-out and hidden in each of their respective work places. Students were escorted around the school and encouraged to search for the hidden bear in each classroom. The big game hunt ended in success in Miss Allen's office next to a box of lollipops.

Another new service this year is Extended Care which features the supervised care of all school age children from 3 to 5:30 p.m. Homework assignments are reviewed by teachers on duty.

Bay Catholic Elementary is also adding Spanish classes for fifth and sixth grades to be taught by Mrs. Juanita Kerbel.

David Wallace will begin art classes in October for BCE students and interested adults after school hours. Also beginning this fall, Catchie Choina, band director for St. Stanislaus will begin an 'Introduction to Band' class for all interested sixth grade students. For information on these classes, call the BCE office at 467-5158.

Grandparents' Week is being celebrated Sept. 19-22. Bay Catholic extends an invitation to all grandparents, friends and senior citizens to join its students for lunch from 11 to 1 p.m. in the cafeteria. There will be a charge of $2 per plate.

The first PTO meeting/open house will be Wednesday, Sept. 28 at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria. This is an opportunity to meet the new PTO officers as well as the BCE faculty and staff.

SSC parent program rescheduled Sept. 18

St. Stanislaus High School has rescheduled its 'back-to-school' program for parents and teachers for Sunday Sept. 18 at 1 p.m. The afternoon will begin with a general meeting in the school's Resource Center.

The leadership team of the school's newly organized parents' group will be introduced, and the group's goals for the coming year will be discussed. The meeting will conclude with a slide presentation featuring the school's 15-year history. According to Brother Paul Montez, SSC principal, the purpose of the 'back-to-school' day is to give parents the opportunity to learn more about their child's academic program, follow up on their child's progress during the course of the year.

The program, originally scheduled for Sept. 11, was postponed due to hurricane preparation.

WHEELS FOR LIFE T-SHIRT—Displaying a T-shirt that participants in the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital bike-a-thon will receive for raising funds are, from left, rider Melody Pearce, Boy Scout troop 630 member Ben Sones and rider Taylor Sones. The troop will assist with first aid and safety throughout the trek down North Beach Boulevard on Saturday, Sept. 24. Sponsor sheets may be picked up at K mart in Waveland or the Hwy. 90 branch of the Hancock County Library. For information call 467-2275. (Photo by Debra Bisnette)

Juried high school art competition hosted by University of Mississippi

An Oct. 10 deadline has been set for entering the second annual statewide juried high school art competition and exhibition hosted by The University of Mississippi Museums.

High school students in grades 9-12 will have the opportunity to enter as many as three works for consideration in the Nov. 8-Jan. 8 showing.

Susan Varas Hannah, programs coordinator with the museum, said the $500 Best-of-Show Award will be presented to the student at his or her high school. A first place and honorable mention will be named for each category. Michael Dudley of Laurel, a student at West Jones High School, won the $500 Best-of-Show Award in last year's exhibition.

The guest juror, Mississippi's First Lady Julie Mabius, will select 100 artworks for the exhibition and will also judge the competition.

Unlike most juried exhibitions, no entry fee will be charged. "The only expense the participants will incur is the cost of mailing, shipping or transporting their work to the University Museums," Hannah said. "The Museums will pay for the return of all entered pieces."

For a work to be eligible for entry, the item must have been completed within the past calendar year, must be suitable for presentation and must be original. Pieces that have been copied and/or taken from another work of art will not be accepted.

Works will be accepted in the following categories: crafts, drawing, graphic design, mixed media, painting, sculpture and watercolors.

Information on the exhibition will be provided to all of the public schools in the state of Mississippi. However, any high school students whose artwork meets the eligibility requirements may enter the competition.

For information or to request an entry form, contact Hannah at 1-232-7073.

Bay schools participate in Mathcounts program

In a room 30 feet long, 12 feet wide and 12 feet high, there is a spider in the center of one of the smaller walls, one foot from the ceiling; and there is a fly in the middle of the opposite wall, one foot from the floor. What is the shortest possible route along which the spider may crawl to reach his prey?

Junior high students from all over Mississippi will be studying problems like this in preparation for the upcoming Mathcounts program.

More than 100 schools are expected to enter and try to dethrone defending state champion Jackson Prep. The top students winning the competition will get a free trip to Washington, D.C. to compete against students from all of the other 49 states for the national championship.

Junior high mathematics teachers have received information about entering the program. These teachers will serve as 'coaches' for the 'mathlete' from their school. School competitions are held in December or January, regional competitions in February, the state competition in March and the national finals in May.

Last year Ocean Springs won the regional competition in our area held at National Space Technology Laboratory. Other schools who participated and will be out to knock off Ocean Springs include Bay St. Louis, Coast Episcopal, d'Iberville, Long Beach, Mercy Cross, Michel Middle, Our Lady Academy, Pearl River Central Middle, Picayune, Poplarville, Rocky Creek, St. Martin and Vancleave.

All junior high schools in the area are eligible and are invited to participate.

Mathcounts is administered in the state by the Mississippi Engineering Society. Sponsors of the program, in addition to the society, include the Gannett Foundation, the Mississippi Power Foundation, Inc., Bryan Foods, Chevron USA Inc., First Mississippi Corporation, Mississippi Chemical Corporation, Electric Power Associations of Mississippi, Leaf River Forest Products Inc., APAC-Mississippi, Inc., Mississippi Concrete Industries Association, Mississippi Valley Gas Company, Southland Oil Company, Hancock Bank, B & B Concrete Co., Inc. and Rutledge and Associates, Inc.

If you are a junior high student or the parent of a junior high student interested in competing in mathcounts, contact your junior high math teacher. Further information may be obtained from the Mississippi Mathcounts coordinator, Dr. Samuel L. DeLeeuw, P.E., Department of Civil Engineering, The University of Mississippi, University, MS 38677 (phone 232-5368 or 234-6854).

By the way, the answer to the spider problem is not 42 feet, but 40 feet.

MSU records largest on-campus enrollment

The president of Mississippi State University was greeted on his return from a two-week Far East visit with the news that his institution's fall on-campus enrollment was the largest in the history of Mississippi higher education.

Dr. Donald Zacharias was among a three-state group of government and business leaders who returned Wednesday from a series of economic development meetings with their counterparts in China and Japan.

Zacharias was joined by registrar W. S. "Bud" Smith that final official figures showed 12,408 students currently attending classes at the Starkville campus. That number includes 2,080 freshmen, a university record.

Of this semester's student body, 7,267 are men and 5,139 are women. Among the major programs, the three largest are the College of Business and Economics (including the School of Accountancy) 3,114; College of Arts and Sciences, 2,497; and College of Engineering, 2,037. Graduate enrollment, which includes the College of Veterinary Medicine, is 1,371, an increase of 56 over last year.

Gulf Coast Community College reports 11 percent enrollment increase Nearly 8,000 students are enrolled in credit programs at Gulf Coast Community College, an 11 percent increase over the fall semester of 1987, preliminary reports show.

"It appears to be a record," said Neil Murray, GCCC executive assistant for institutional relations.

Murray said the largest single increase is in university transfer programs, up 17 percent to 5,600 students.

"Transfer students are those who plan to move on to four-year colleges and universities after completing their community college work," Murray said.

She credited the increase in transfer enrollment to the Two-Plus-Two program offered by GCCC and the University of Southern Mississippi.

"Two-Plus-Two enables students to get a four-year degree on the Mississippi Coast. Lower division work is taken at the community college and upper division requirements are completed at USM-Gulf Coast," Murray explained.

Credit enrollment is up at all three of GCCC's campuses. The largest percentage increase (15 percent) is at Jackson County Campus, where nearly 2,800 students are registered.

Enrollment at the Jefferson Davis Campus is up 13 percent to 3,500 students and Perkinson Campus 3 percent to about 900. Perkinson is GCCC's boarding campus.

Murray said enrollment figures from the college's four centers are incomplete. GCCC operates the West Harrison County Center at Long Beach, the Harrison County Center near Gulfport, the George County Center at Lucedale and the Keesler AFB Center at Biloxi.

The growth in enrollment is due in part to a change in the state's funding formula for part-time students, Murray believes.

"The change means that students taking 1 semester hours during the day and evening are considered full-timers and pay the same $300-a-semester charged full-time day students," Murray said.

Before the formula was revised, part-time students—those taking fewer than 12 hours during the day—paid $35 a semester hour.

"Now all students carrying 12 semester hours pay the same tuition, a savings of $120 to part-time people," Murray said.

She said the low cost to attend GCCC "certainly has contributed to an increase in enrollment. More importantly, the college offers a quality education and students who transfer to a university or four-year college have no trouble making the transition," she added.

Picture yourself as part of the family.

These are just a few of the men and women who are part of the Hancock Bank family.

It's a family that had its beginnings 89 years ago right in Hancock County, and it was proud to take the county's name. Today the Hancock Bank family has grown to include over 48 locations throughout the Mississippi Gulf Coast—five of them in Hancock County—and over 750 employees to serve you. In fact, we offer more services and more reasons to join our family than any other bank in South Mississippi.

It comes to leadership, stability and growth in the community. The Hancock Bank family has been a driving force since 1923. So, when choosing who your banking family should be, we think you'll choose Hancock.

USM enrollment tops 12,000

The University of Southern Mississippi's 1988 fall enrollment for all campuses was up nearly 5 percent at the end of a one-week late registration period, in comparison with the same time frame last year.

As of Tuesday, Sept. 6, USM officials reported an enrollment on the Hattiesburg campus of 10,839 in comparison with 10,403 a year ago. Enrollment at USM's three Gulf Coast centers this year had reached 1,407 in comparison with 1,272 last year.

Those preliminary, unofficial figures placed USM's total enrollment as of Sept. 6 this year at 12,246 in comparison with 11,675 in the fall of 1987—or a net increase of roughly 5 percent.

Dr. Eugene Barnes, assistant vice president for research and extended services, estimated another 200 nursing students, student teachers, Division of Lifelong Learning credit students and some other categories of students probably would register before a final, official, larger USM enrollment figure is submitted to the state College Board in late September.

"We're thinking we're going to hit about 11,000 just on the Hattiesburg campus," said Barnes, noting last year's final, official registration figure for Hattiesburg was 10,602. "We're already at 10,839 with three more weeks of registration."

The final, official enrollment for all USM campuses in 1987 was 11,937.

Barnes, who oversees the university's enrollment management operations, acknowledged the percentage of enrollment increase on the Hattiesburg campus dropped from 7 to 5 percent between the close of regular registration Aug. 30 and the close of one week of late registration Sept. 6. He pointed out, however, the actual late registration period this year was cut from five to four days because of the Labor Day holiday weekend.

USM reached a "baby boom" enrollment peak and was the largest school in Mississippi during the 1983-84 fall term with 13,546 students attending classes—including 11,333 on the Hattiesburg campus. Enrollment each fall term since then, however, had declined slightly but steadily—as the pool of graduating high school students dwindled—until this fall's resurgence.

MUW registers enrollment increase

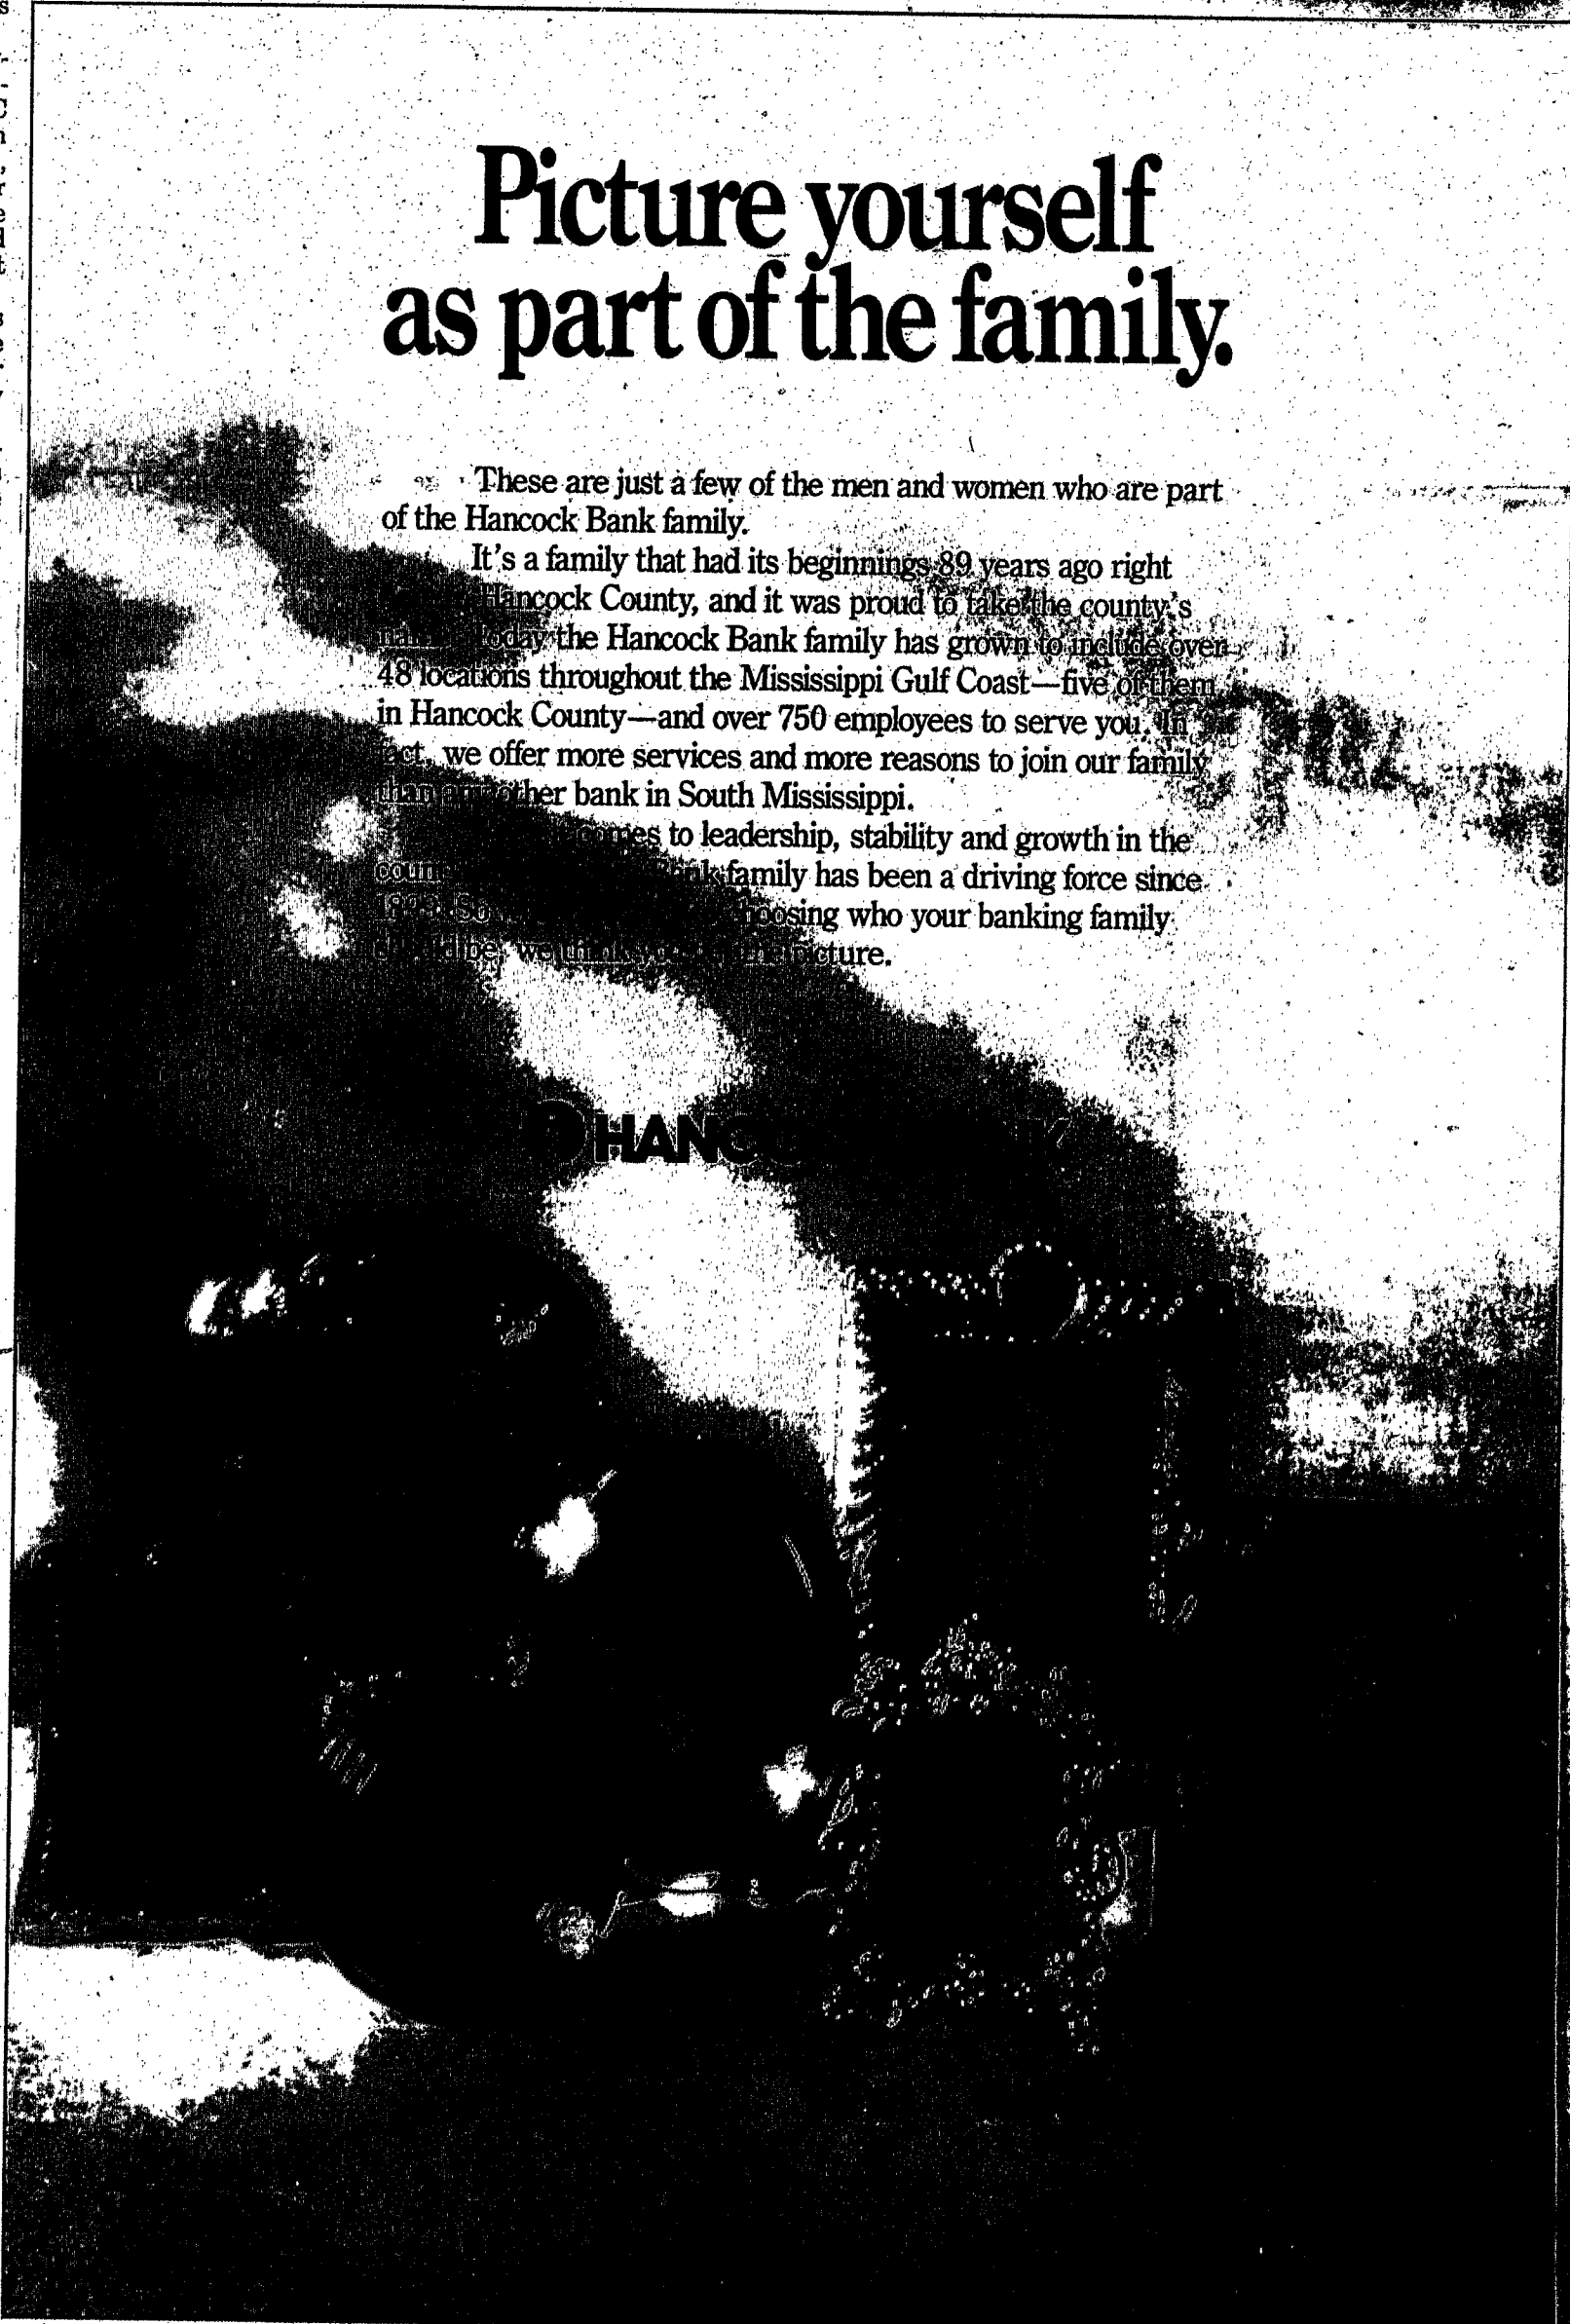

Mississippi University for Women is showing an increase of six percent in full-time students, according to figures released from the Registrar's Office.

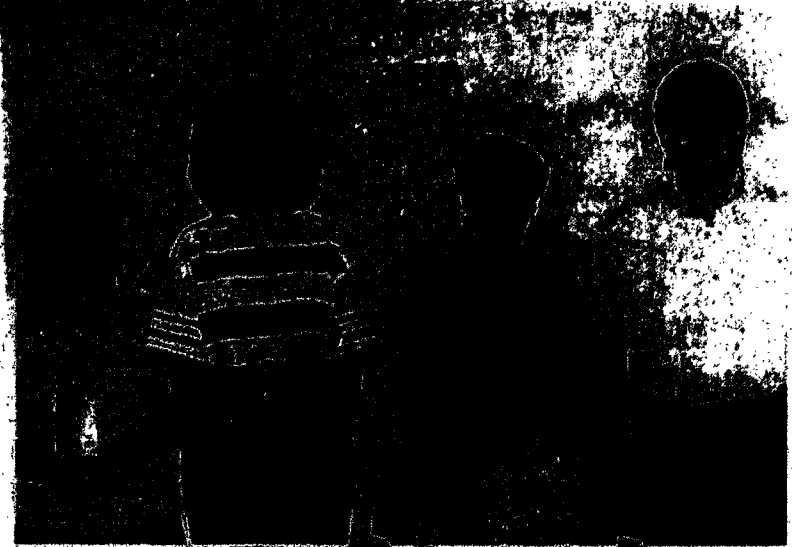

The registrar also reported a seven-percent increase in resident students.

Headcount enrollment is up this fall as well. this year, 2,054 students registered for fall classes at MUW, compared to 2,043 last fall.

The number of full-time students has increased from 1,190 in 1987 to 1,269 this year. This fall, 476 students are living on campus, compared to 441 a year ago.

Oliver attends Junior Legion Auxiliary meet

Amy Oliver of Bay St. Louis has attended the junior meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary held in conjunction with the 68th annual American Legion Auxiliary National Convention in Louisville, Ky. Sept. 5-8.

Oliver is one of 37 who attended the leadership training session.

More than 1,800 senior members attended the convention representing the one million members of the world's largest patriotic women's service organization.

Junior members of the American Legion Auxiliary participate in many of the service projects of the organization. The 119,000 are responsible for contributing 243,000 volunteer hours working with hospitalized and homebound veterans during the past year.

Dedicated to serve the veterans and their families, children and charitable work, senior members of the auxiliary raised more than $20 million and devoted six million hours of worthwhile causes during the 1987-88 administrative year.

Mississippi opens nation's fourth residential high school for gifted

The nation's fourth state-supported residential high school for academically able students opened Sept. 7 as the Mississippi School of Math and Science. The two-year secondary school program was funded for $2.067 million by the 1988 Legislature of the State of Mississippi.

Such programs as the Mississippi School of Math and Science can help unlock the key to economic development in poor rural states based on the success of similar programs in other states.

"The school influences economic development by the impression of our education system we portray. The state Department of Commerce furnishes those considering investments in North Carolina with a brochure about the school," according to Dr. Charles Eiber, director of the North Carolina School for Science and Mathematics, the nation's first state-supported residential high school program.

The school, located on the campus of Mississippi University for Women (MUW) in Columbus, will serve 135 high school juniors in its first year of operation. During the second year of operation a new junior class will join the senior class for a combined student body of approximately 275. Students will pursue a curriculum that emphasizes advanced courses in mathematics, science and computers. An additional emphasis will be on the development of research skills. Students will also pursue a traditional humanities curriculum.

An individualized approach to instruction will be used that includes seminars, field trips and independent research projects. Project Discover, a career development program, will match students with Columbus, Lowndes County, and other Golden Triangle professionals in business, industry and service organizations for mentorship/internship activities.

"State of the art science and computer labs will allow students the opportunity to work in a technological environment. The physics labs have modularized sets to maximize learning in each experiment. Chemistry labs have micro-scale sets which allow students to perform an experiment in less time with greater reliability and safety. Biology labs will include anatomy and species collections and a video camera microscope.

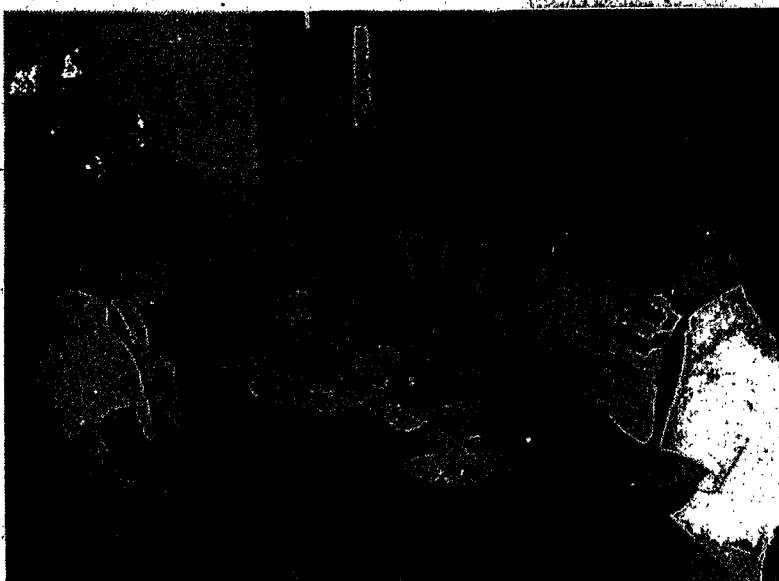

Plans are underway to allow students to access the "super computer" at The University of Mississippi via networked communications. With the same system students will be able to access worldwide data base resources through either CompuServe or Telenet. Plans are underway to make the computer system resources available to students at their homes via Modem. Eventual plans call for MSMS to extend availability of its computer system resources to schools across the state.

The Mississippi School for Math and Science will function as a "campus within a campus." Its academic building, residential halls, and intramural facilities are housed in buildings owned by MUW. The local Lowndes County Board of Supervisors provided $1.5 million for renovation of the buildings for use by the school.

Schools with similar academic programs now operate in North Carolina, Louisiana and Illinois. The opening of the Mis-issippi School further enhances the state's growing commitment to educational improvement. The state legislature was among the first to push for major educational reform with the passage of the Education Reform Act of 1982.

USM slates Parenting Gifted Conference Sept. 24

Pre-registration is recommended by Sept. 15 for the University of Southern Mississippi Center for Gifted Studies' fifth annual Parenting Gifted Children Conference Sept. 24.

The center invites parents and other adults who are interested in gifted children to attend the conference free of charge.

Dr. Marilyn Foxworth, president of the Mississippi Association for Talented and Gifted, will keynote the conference with an address titled "Gaining Statewide Support of Gifted Education."

The conference is scheduled from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m., with registration beginning at 8 a.m. in USM's Bennett Auditorium. A picnic lunch will be provided.

To pre-register, write the USM Division of Lifelong Learning, Southern Station Box 5056, Hattiesburg, Miss., 39406-5056; or call 1-266-4186.
